DANGER OF CLASH IS LESS

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 2.—The yellow fever situation in New Orleans and the south, to date, is as follows:

At New Orleans—Total cases, 378; deaths today, 11; new cases today, 22; total deaths, 79; total foci, 54.

At Ship island quarantine station in the gulf, off Mobile bay—4 cases (convalescent); Shreveport, La., one case; Montgomery, Ala., one case; Lumberton, Miss., one case; Westwego, La., two cases and one death; Algiers, La., one case; Sunrise, La., one case; Empire, La., one case; Ostrica, La., one case; Point Celeste, La., one case; Vaccaro, La., one case.

The fever situation showed no material change during the day and the few new foci shows that it is not spreading with the rapidity of former years. Of the deaths, four were in the Emergency hospital, four in the original districts and three in the Charity hospital.

Arms a Patrol Fleet.

The controversy between the states of Louisiana and Mississippi over the invasion by Gov. Vardaman's quarantine mosquito fleet and the armed guards stationed at Pearl river is not improved by the statement given out by Gov. Vardaman today in Jackson after his return from the coast, where he went to investigate the situation.

Gov. Blanchard has ordered Capt. Bostick of the naval brigade to impress the fleet of patrol boats of the oyster commission into service, arm them and patrol the waters now in possession of the Mississippi boats. One of these boats has already been dispatched to the Rigolets, the neck of water connecting Lake Pontchartrain with Lake Borgne, and late tonight or tomorrow morning a launch armed with Colt's rapid-fire guns from the Naval brigade armory, and manned by officers and crew from the brigade, will leave for the scene.

Both Capt. Bostick and Gen. Perilliat submitted reports as to the result of their investigations. Both dispatched officers to the scene today, and they learned enough to confirm the first reports of the invasion and the action of the Mississippi patrol boats in closing Louisiana waters to Louisiana fishermen.

Question of Boundary.

The Rigolets drawbridge, on which the Louisville & Nashville railroad crosses, it is contended here, is five miles from the Mississippi line and distinctly in Louisiana territory, and, it is added, does not even come under that territory now in dispute before the supreme court of the United States. It was found today that a man named Blunt, claiming to be in charge of the Mississippi patrol in those waters, had stationed himself on the bridge, armed with two shotguns, and forbade the bridgekeeper from opening the draw to allow boats to pass out from Lake Pontchartrain into Lake Borgne. Many other complaints also have been received.

There are 18 boats now at Ship island, which were captured by the patrol and towed by the revenue cutter Winona to Ship Island quarantine station. It is claimed that every one of these vessels was taken in Louisiana waters.

Stop a British Boat.

Another complication has developed in the same connection. The British ship Brayhead of the Head line, after completing her cargo in New Orleans, stopped

PARALYZES THE RAILWAYS

Striking Telegraphers Almost Stop Business on Northern Pacific Road.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

ST. PAUL, MINN., Aug. 2.—With hundreds of telegraphers of the Great Northern and the Northern Pacific railroads on strike tonight, immense hindrance is experienced in the moving of trains on both systems. Through limited trains and time freights, by great effort, have been kept almost on schedule time, but attempts have been abandoned to maintain local freight and passenger scheduled service. The greatest interference in schedules has been on the Idaho division, some of the fast trains being delayed five hours.

Large quantities of perishable fruit were handled by the express companies. Prepayment on express traffic was almost invariably demanded, and toward evening guarantees of delivery were refused, signed releases being required.

DENVER, Aug. 2.—A strike of the trackmen on the Denver & Rio Grande railroad went into effect tonight. It cannot be definitely known until the regular hour for reporting for duty tomorrow how extensively the trackmen have obeyed the order. Officers of the road declare they do not believe section foremen intend to strike.

Carmichaels Jeweler Confesses His Identity to Doctor as He Was About to Pass Away.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

MARION, O., Aug. 2.—Samuel Hathaway, a jeweler from Carmichaels, Pa., died at Prospect sanitarium last night five hours after he had been taken there from his lodgings in this city. Death was pronounced due to uraemic poisoning. During the short time that he was in this city with his wife and child Hathaway was known as Samuel Ross. Mrs. Hathaway, who is left in apparently good circumstances, refuses to give any reason for having used a fictitious name.

Just before Hathaway died he said to the physician: "I can't die under an assumed name. My true name is Samuel Hathaway of Carmichaels, Pa.

NINE-YEAR-OLD STOIC.

Opened Railroad Torpedo With a Stone and Bore Pain Without a Whimper.

SOUTH BETHLEHEM, PA., Aug. 2.—(Special.)—Nine-year-old Joseph Onal sat on the platform of the Lehigh Valley freight house this afternoon with not even a tear in his eye, despite the fact that there was a big hole in his left cheek, ugly cuts on his left ear and left eye, and the palm and fingers of his left hand were almost torn to shreds.

He found a railroad torpedo. He put the torpedo on a large stone and then pounded it hard with another stone. When railroad men found him they were astounded at the lad's indifference to his pain, as was the surgeon who took him to St. Luke's hospital, where his injuries were dressed.

CZAR'S ENVOY HAS ARRIVED

M. Witte, Leader of Russia's Plenipotentiaries, Issues Statement.

HE PRAISES JAPANESE

Hopes Belligerents May Proceed from Negotiations to a Lasting Friendship.

KIND WORDS FOR PRESIDENT

The Pittsburgh Gazette Bureau,
Herald Building, Herald Square,
NEW YORK, August 2.

M. Sergius Witte, the leading peace envoy of the emperor of Russia, is in America, prepared to enter on peace negotiations with the Japanese commissioners.

Accompanied by a distinguished staff of Russian officials, who will act as his associates and advisors, he arrived this afternoon on the steamship Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse, of the North German Lloyd lines. He issued an address to the American people, in which he praised President Roosevelt, the press, the spirit of fair play which animates America, and even had a kindly word for "our gallant adversaries," the Japanese. But he sounded not a single note of optimism as to the outcome of the approaching conference.

M. Witte's reception was cordial on the part of the crowds that had gathered on the Hoboken dock to witness the arrival of the steamer, and almost riotous in its fervor on the part of the Slavonic alliance of this city, who presented him with bread and salt. The distinguished Russian proved himself a captivating traveling companion on the voyage and charmed everybody on his arrival with his pleasing deportment and democratic ways. He was met at the dock by Baron De Rosen, the Russian ambassador, who is to be his colleague in the negotiations, and drove with him to the Hotel St. Regis, where the Russian mission is quartered.

Personnel of Party.

The party includes besides the senior plenipotentiary, Sergius Witte, J. Shipoff, director of the treasury department; Maj.-Gen. Yermoleg, military attache at London; Mr. Naboukoff, of the foreign office; Jean Korotovitz, formerly secretary of the Russian legation at Pekin; Georges Plancon, formerly Russian charge d'affairs at Pekin; Gen. W. K. Samsioff, of the Russian foreign office, and Prof. De Martens, professor of international law at St. Petersburg.

To newspaper representatives M. Witte gave out the following prepared statement, which was read aloud by Prof. De Martens, a member of the Russian party:

"For the friendly greetings of the American newspapers upon my first visit to the hospitable shores of the United States, I offer my heartfelt thanks. This kind attention touches me all the more profoundly because I realize the vastness of the power wielded by the press of the United States and the keen intelligence with which it is uniformly directed.

Praise for the President.

"I am glad to be able to add that I also appreciate the ethical worth of the aims for the attainment of which that power is so often and successfully employed. One of the noblest of these aims is the establishment of peace and friendship among nations, and it is to the praiseworthy efforts of the president of the United States in this direction that my visit to the new world is attributable. For it is in compliance with the American people's desire for peace, of which President Roosevelt was the authorized exponent, that his majesty, the czar, has empowered me to come hither and ascertain the terms of which our gallant adversary deems necessary and adequate as a basis for peace negotiations.

"I need hardly point out that it is my

FIRST, A CLEAN-UP, THEN THE DIGGING

Authoritative Statement That This Is the Present Program on Canal Work.

SITE FOR EXECUTIVE HOUSE

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2.—Until the commission shall have completed its arrangements looking toward better sanitary conditions and the housing of employes upon the canal zone and in the cities of Colon and Panama, the actual digging of the canal will be of secondary consideration. This was the authoritative statement made today at the offices of the commission. At present workmen are filling swamps and the consequent killing of mosquitoes, in making drains, in providing not only two large cities with a supply of pure water, but the interior camps with the same vital necessity and with food properly prepared for cooking and cold storage plants in which to place it while on the way to the consumer.

The commission is now unloading an average of 100 cars of lumber a day, and making ready for occupancy something over two thousand dwellings bequeathed to it from the French regime. Two of its intended seven large hotels are complete and an extensive addition to one of the existing hotels, but work will be hurried upon the remainder and wherever they can be utilized workmen will be drafted from the excavations to assist in these buildings.

PANAMA, Aug. 2.—The healthiest spot between Panama and Colon being Ancon the isthmian commission has decided to construct the administration buildings and the residences of the governor and the employes there. A 700-foot zone around Ancon will be cleared of all brush and mosquito breeding places, and the non-immune residents of the projected American town should be safe from yellow fever.

DEATH CLAIMS HIM FIRST.

Sick Man from Corry Expires Even While a Rabbi Is on the Way to Marry Him to His Fiancee.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 2.—(Special.)—Told that he could not live after an operation for appendicitis at the University hospital, Mortimer M. Sternfeld turned to his fiancee, Miss Juliette Shubmak, today and asked her to consent to an immediate wedding. She agreed, but before a rabbi arrived at the hospital Sternfeld died.

It was Sternfeld's 22d birthday anniversary, and less than a week after his engagement to Miss Shubmak had been announced. Her parents and his own father and mother, from Corry, Pa., were at his bedside when the end came. Sternfeld was graduated from the University of Pennsylvania law department last spring.

SETTLES HIS GRIEVANCE.

One Man Dead and Another Dying, as Result of Payment of Score.

NEW YORK, Aug. 2.—Samuel Bernstein a master baker of Roebling street, Brooklyn, is dead, and Isaac Feder, his assistant, is in a critical condition as a result of a mysterious assault by a man who entered Bernstein's shop early today and opened fire upon the two men.

Before dying Bernstein identified John Cipriano, aged 19, as his assailant. Cipriano, who is in custody, was recently treated in a Brooklyn hospital for a gunshot wound the origin of which he would not explain, saying that he would settle his score himself as soon as he recovered.

KELLEY MADE PRESIDENT.

Chosen Head of American Steel Foundries, Which Takes Over Schwab Holdings.

NEW YORK, Aug. 2.—William V. Kelley, at a meeting of the directors of the American Steel Foundries Company today, was elected president of that company, to succeed Gen. Charles Miller, resigned. Gen. Miller continues as chairman of the board.

After the new management has affairs in good running order, it is said that George B. Leighton, first vice president, and W. D. Sargent, second vice president, will resign. It is stated that a subcompany of the American Steel Foundries Company has taken over the Schwab holdings, which amount to 6,000 shares of preferred and 15,000 shares of common stock.

ATTORNEY GENERAL MOODY WANTS AGED LAWS AMENDED

Says Country Has Outgrown the Cumbersome Federal Statutes—Should Provide Punishment for Grafters.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

OYSTER BAY, L. I., Aug. 2.—After spending 24 hours with President Roosevelt, Attorney General Moody left this morning for Washington, where he will delve at once into the scandals of the department of agriculture.

Mr. Moody refused to discuss his conference with the president, but it is known that among the subjects gone over was the necessity of strengthening the federal criminal laws to meet cases similar to those which have arisen in the department of agriculture.

"The United States criminal laws need revision and extension," said Mr. Moody. "We must change the methods of moving criminals from one district to another. It is harder now to get a criminal across the Brooklyn bridge from one federal district to another than it is for the state of Maine to bring a man from California."

"Do you believe corruption in government service has grown in recent years?" Mr. Moody was asked.

"I do not," said the attorney general. "If I did I should feel our whole system of government was hopeless. I am convinced there is less dishonesty in the government service, considering the number of men employed, the amount of business and of money handled, than in great private corporations.

"When I say there is little dishonesty in the departments do not imagine I would for a moment belittle what wrongdoing exists. I have a horror of dishonesty in public officials. I believe in running it down and stamping it out at any cost, for it is an evil that is fatal, absolutely fatal, to government.

"If you want any encouragement as to our general improvement in honesty in public life read Pepys' diary. Pepys was considered an absolutely honest official, and was one from the point of view of his time. Today he would be considered a grafter of the most glaring kind."

Surgeon General Rixey of the navy and Mrs. Rixey arrived here tonight from Washington and are guests at Sagamore Hill of the president and Mrs. Roosevelt.

HER DREAM WAS TRUE

By Its Revelation Omaha Woman Is Enabled to Locate Body of Husband.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

OMAHA, NEB., Aug. 2.—Through the aid of a dream in which she saw a muffled figure following her husband, Mrs. I. R. Andrews, president of the Omaha Women's club, last night succeeded in locating the dead body of her husband in the Platte river.

The dream occurred last Friday night when Mr. Andrews was at Cedar Creek 100 miles from Omaha. Mr. Andrews disappeared that night and was not heard of again. He was a wealthy lawyer.

Andrews had been out to a gravel pit to pay off his employes. Saturday morning he was missing. His wife was telegraphed to, but because of her strange dream of the night before had already begun a search when the telegram arrived. On arriving at the gravel pit, she was told Mr. Andrews had gone down the river the night before, but she insisted that in her dream he had gone upstream.

Parties searched in both directions, and last night the body was found near where she had seen the figure following her husband in the dream.

Up until the time of her fatal illness she had been active despite her great weight, doing work about the farm, such as milking the cows and making butter. She was the mother of eight children, all of whom have died.

When Mrs. Schoffstall is buried on Friday morning an extra size casket and an extra wide hearse will be required. Mrs. Schoffstall's husband, who survives, weighs but 10 pounds.

FIND CRUSHED SKULL.

Skeleton of Man Probably Murdered Turns Up in Excavation for Mt. Washington House.

While workmen were excavating yesterday for an addition to the home of Frank Nimis, No. 2 Natches street, Mt. Washington, the skeleton of a man was unearthed. First the skull was found, and in its forehead was an opening about an inch wide, apparently made by a blow from a blunt instrument.

The present resident has been in the house for only a short time and had no knowledge of the body being buried there. Those who saw the skeleton judged from its appearance that it had been under ground for only a few years. The police bureau was notified.

Y., Aug. 2.—(Special.)—During a thunderstorm this afternoon, Louis De Blasio was sitting under his piazza in Valley street, counting his money, about $50, preparatory to a trip to Italy. GERMAN SQUADRON IS AT STOCKHOLM

Big Fleet of Kaiser's Warships Appears at Sweden's Capital.

FORM COALITION MINISTRY

[Associated Press Cable to The Gazette.]

STOCKHOLM, Aug. 2.—A German squadron, consisting of seven battleships, eight cruisers and 11 torpedo boats arrived here tonight.

TURIN, ITALY, Aug. 2.—Count Lanza di Busca, the Italian ambassador to Germany, who has just arrived from Berlin, says that there is no truth in the report that Emperor William is endeavoring to secure for the Baltic sea the status of a mare clausum. The emperor, he says, is anxious for peace.

COPENHAGEN, Aug. 2.—Since his arrival at the Danish court Emperor William appears to have become convinced that there is no hope of a prince of the house of Bernadotte becoming king of Norway. His majesty now favors Prince Charles of Denmark, and he is quoted as saying, "If Prince Charles does not become king, Norway will be a republic. Of course I prefer a monarchy, and, therefore, shall hereafter support the candidacy of Prince Charles."

Prince and Princess Charles tonight paid a long visit to Emperor William, when his majesty again promised to support Prince Charles for the throne of Norway. The emperor also met the Russian minister, M. Iswolsky, with whom he discussed far eastern affairs, on which M. Iswoisky is well informed, having been minister at Tokyo.

STOCKHOLM, SWEDEN, Aug. 2.—A coalition ministry was formed today as follows: State, Christian Lundeberg; foreign affairs, Count A. F. Wachtmeister; justice, Judge C. A. Berg; war, Col. L. H. Tingsten; marine, S. A. A. Lindman; interior, J. Widen; finance, Herr Biesert; education and ecclesiastical affairs, Herr Hammarskjold; agriculture, A. D. Petersen; ministers without portfolio, Herren Pettersen and Staaff.

The new premier is one of the pillars of the Conservative majority in the upper house. He was largely responsible for the conditions framed by the special committee of the riksdag for the dissolution of the union and King Oscar selected him for the premiership, as he considered it desirable that the same influence which dominated the work of the committee should prevail during the negotiations for the carrying out of its program.

In the new cabinet the Liberals are well represented, and the ministry can be depended upon to seek a peaceful solution of the difficulties between Sweden and Norway.

Vacant House Burns in West End.

A two-story frame house belonging to A. Beamen, located in the Plank road, near Division street, West End, was completely destroyed by fire this morning at 1:50 o'clock. The house was unoccupied and the flames had made great headway before they were discovered. Adjoining property was saved by the effective work of the firemen, who subdued the flames within 10 minutes after their arrival.

Walk Into Officer's Arms.

Officer Hogan got to the store in time to catch Frank Konkunusky and Thomas McCloskey, as they were coming out of the front door. Both were locked up. Sonnan says he entered his store at the rear and saw the men at the cash drawer.

TAGGART SCANDAL BEFORE COURTS

Army Divorce Case Starts Off With Arraignment of Husband and Wife.

SEVERAL WITNESSES HEARD

WOOSTER, O., Aug. 2.—The lights went on in the sensational Taggart divorce case today. The morning session of Judge Mason's court was taken up in reviewing the arguments as to the admission of all correspondence which has taken place between Mrs. Taggart and William Taggart, cousin of Maj. Taggart, and named as co-respondent, and the letters and papers which have passed between Maj. Taggart and his wife since their separation. Judge Mason refused to order the production of all the letters and papers, but ordered the defendant to produce those letters and papers which passed between the parties named during the months of June, July and August, 1903.

The real business of the trial began at 1 o'clock. The court room was crowded with men, boys under 16 being excluded. No women were present, with the exception of Mrs. Taggart, who, with her sister, Mrs. Shields, a friend, Mrs. Vose of Chicago, and her lawyers, Congressman-elect M. L. Smyser and Capt. J. B. Taylor, occupied seats at a table inside the bar.

Many Reputations at Stake.

Maj. Taggart, in his fatigue army uniform, with his attorneys, the Hon. E. S. Weritz, Eugene Carlin and James R. Stirling of Canton, occupied seats at another table. Attorney Wertz moved that the case be heard behind closed doors, for, as he said, "There will be lots of testimony reflecting upon the characters of a large number of people." The defense objected and the court upheld the objection.

Attorney Wertz then began his opening statement in which he stated that they expected to show that Mrs. Taggart first began her career by holding clandestine meetings with Lieut. Ritter at Fort Thomas, Ky.; that while at that post she also associated with Mr. and Mrs. Poor, people of bad reputation; that during 1901 she consorted with one Spencer and Lieut. Bash in Chicago; that during the year 1903 she was guilty of gross immoral conduct with Charles W. Miner, commander of the army post at Fort Leavenworth, which conduct was carried so far that she permitted Miner to take liberties with her person while at the dinner table one day. Mr. Wertz also said that Mr. and Mrs. Poor put in their appearance at this post and Mrs. Taggart again began her associations with them, much against the remonstrances of her husband; that at various times she was caught in suspicious places with Lieut. Fortesque, and that she was addicted to strong drink and cigarets; that she also lived in an unlawful state with William Taggart at Orrville, and that on one occasion there was hauled away from her house in Orrville a barrel full of empty quart whisky bottles.

Mr. Smyser Scores Taggart.

Smyser in his opening statement denied all the allegations of the plaintiff, and described the charges and reports of immorality on the part of Mrs. Taggart as being "Emanations from the half-crazed brain of the drunken plaintiff." He charged Taggart with drunkenness to extreme cruelty and misconduct with a Philippine woman named Augustina. He also charged the major with abducting the children from their mother at San Francisco and bringing them to Wayne county, where he was compelled to surrender them by habeas corpus proceedings.

Mrs. Dietrich of Orrville was the first witness. She testified that she did the washing for Mrs. Taggart, while the latter was living alone with her children in Orrville. The washing was frequently brought to her house by William Taggart, the named co-respondent and that in the washing she found shirts and drawers marked "W. T." Etta Plumb testified that while working as dining room girl at the Windsor hotel in Akron, William and Mrs. Taggart came in for breakfast one morning and that "they looked rather shy." Maggie Fernbaugh testified that she frequently saw Mrs. Taggart riding around Orrville in a grocery wagon with William Taggart. At this point court adjourned until tomorrow.

Just before her appearance in court, Mrs. Taggart for the first time talked for publication about the case.

"It is my boys," she said, "for whom I am fighting this case. They are all I have.

"Captain Taggart thought I would begin suit for divorce after our separation, but I cared little for divorce. I am contesting this suit he brings, mostly because the trial will determine which of us will have the children. And I am sure this trial will prove my innocence of the charges he makes."

BACHELORS OF THE SWELL KNICKERBOCKER ARE SAD

Dismissal of Popular Janitor in Big Allegheny Apartments Causes an Uprising of Tenants and Strike of Servants.

At last that much-maligned man, the janitor of the apartment house, has been vindicated, and, contrary to all tradition, a demonstration, nay even an uprising in his behalf, has been witnessed.

The man who has upset precedent and proved to a skeptical world that popularity and affection are prerogatives of the presiding officer in a flat, is Charles Pagenhart, who, since last November, has been ministering to the wants of 72 bachelors in the swell Knickerbocker apartments in East Diamond street, Allegheny.

For some reason Pagenhart fell out with the renting agents and was given two days' notice to quit his abode, take his clothes and go. This caused a rebellion. Bearded men and callow youths interceded to save the job of their old friend, and incidentally to retain as their chief factotum one who had studied all their habits and wants. But pleading was in vain, and Pagenhart left on Tuesday afternoon.

Then followed a strike. Every manservant and maid-servant in the Knickerbocker threw up his or her position. When the men of single-blessedness returned home they found an elevator dark and immovable. Walking to the fifth floor made many a bachelor deliver himself of some choice expressions. The dining-room girls were gone and there was no dinner.

A new force took hold yesterday, but, according to one young bachelor, "the new bunch hasn't got on to our curves yet."

There was no ice to put into the refrigerators yesterday, and the laundry was not gathered up. Things are not the same and there is grumbling heard on every floor. But the ice is the thing at the Knickerbocker, according to one lonely man, who last night wandered away from his own fireside to seek a place where ice is plenty. To quote this one:

"Give us ice, and plenty of it, or you can't keep us at home."

ENVOY OF THE CZAR HAS ARRIVED

ardent desire the two chivalrous foes who first became acquainted on the field of battle may have found in each other's sterling qualities motives powerful enough to cultivate that acquaintanceship until it ripens into lasting friendship. Meanwhile, however, the terms offered must first be ascertained, weighed and judged admissible by Russia before she can proceed to formal negotiations. Hitherto, as you are aware, it was customary in cases like this to settle all such preliminaries before the meeting of the plenipotentiaries, whose task it was to come to a final agreement on the matters under discussion.

Evidence of Czar's Good Will.

"Now, the very fact that his majesty, the czar, consented to take the course involving departure from this ancient diplomatic usage and to appoint a mission to learn the nature of our brave enemy's terms is an eloquent token of the friendly feeling which he and his subjects continue to cherish toward the people of the United States. I say continue to cherish, because at no epoch in our history have our traditional relations with this great Republic been other than cordial.

"And now I would like to say, aye, and to prove to you people who live less in the past than in the present and future, that it is the fervent wish of the emperor and the people of Russia further to strengthen the ties of friendship which have hitherto subsisted between the two nations. It is in virtue of that sincere desire that his majesty, the czar, waiving all other considerations has unhesitatingly accepted the cordial invitation of your first citizen and genial leader. And if my mission should prove in all other respects barren, and the endeavor to find a common basis for peace negotiations should fail for the time being, the signal proof of friendship given by his majesty, the czar, and the Russian nation would still stand out as a memorable event, fraught, I trust, with far-reaching and beneficent results to the two great peoples of the west and the east."

Denies False Reports.

M. Witte this afternoon emphatically denied having said Japan's peace terms were intolerable. He also denied positively that he had predicted the conference would break up in a week.

On shipboard Mr. Witte was generally reticent when the subject of his mission was mentioned. However, to a correspondent, who accompanied him from Cherbourg, he said:

"Almost everywhere in Europe, as well as in America, not only Russia, her forces, her resources and her power of resistance are not known, but the people are even mistaken about the true results of the war. The Russians have had reverses, but this does not signify they have lost the power which was known to the Muscovite empire before the war; it does not mean that Russia has become a negligible quantity nor that the Japanese have acquired, by recent victories, such a supremacy as to make the Russian empire consider them a truly redoubtable enemy."

Mr. Witte recognizes the good qualities of the Japanese military, naval and administrative organizations, and does not believe any other European nation would have been able to resist Japan as Russia has done.

Why Russia Is Defeated.

"It must be taken into consideration," said Mr. Witte, "that the Japanese had been preparing themselves for war for about 10 years, while Russia was entirely unprepared, wishing and trusting in peace; that the Japanese fought in their own neighborhood under all favorable conditions, while the Russians had to be sent 9,000 versts from their headquarters by a railroad entirely insufficient to their needs and to fight a colonial war with all coefficients against them. There is not in history another example of a similar disproportion between enemies.

"Nevertheless, all the foreign officers of the European armies who followed the war are unanimous in affirming that the Russian troops, both soldiers and officers, fought with true admirable bravery, but they had to withdraw on account of a combination of circumstances with which their personal valor could not contend. On the sea the Russians found themselves constantly in inferior conditions. The squadron of Rojestvensky was sent against Japan, not because the Russians had much confidence in its success, but because they could not renounce, from a military and moral point of view, any chance, no matter how uncertain of obtaining even a partial victory.

Belittles Enemy's Progress.

"Suppose for a moment that the war instead of having taken place in Corea or in Manchuria had been fought at the true Russian frontiers, then the Japanese would not have been able to face the Russian forces for more than six months. However, even as things stand the Japanese have not made such progress as is generally believed; in fact, they would have to advance four times as much as they have done in the last year and a half to reach Russia proper. In case alone they might consider themselves in a position to impose the conditions of peace. But they are very far from this, and the more they advance north the more the respective conditions of the Rusians and the Japanese will be reversed.

"The great majority of the Russian people do not attach to the conflict in the far east the importance which is given to it in Europe and America. It is considered as a very distant colonial war, but the whole Russian people would rise as a single man the day in which they should think it is no more the question of a colonial war, which is not dangerous, but of a conflict threatening the security of the country."

Have Been Here Before.

Some of the members of the Russian peace delegation have visited America before. Prof. DeMartens said it was a real pleasure to him to return to America. "It was in the United States in October, 1901," he said, "on the occasion of having conferred upon me the degree of doctor of laws by Yale university, together with President Roosevelt, Chief Justice Melville W. Fuller, Marquis Ito, Mark Twain and the late Secretary of State Hay, that I had the privilege of making the personal acquaintance of President Roosevelt.

"Of that sojourn in America I retained such a grateful memory that I gave an account of it in an article under the title of 'American Impressions,' published in New York. I received the best impression of all classes of American citizens, and I am especially indebted to Chief Justice Fuller, who was my colleague at Paris during the great arbitration of 1899 between Venezuela and England."

Jean Korostovetz, who is one of M. Witte's secretaries, went through the United States twice, in 1894 going from Japan to the Russian legation at Rio Janeiro, and in 1901 going to Russia from Port Arthur, where he was the chief of Admiral Alexieff's civil staff.

Gen. Yermoleff, the leading military member of the Russian delegation, said: "I retain a very good remembrance of my former sojourn in America, where I was in 1898 as Russian military representative with the American troops during the Spanish-American war. At Tampa I had the honor of being presented to Mr. Roosevelt, I remained in Cuba until the fall of Santiago, during all that time I received the best impression of the American army, of which I admired the heroism as well as the spirit, discipline, and the exceptional smartness."

At the headquarters of the Japanese peace commission tonight no comment was made on the interview with Mr. Witte.

VICTORIA, B. C., Aug. 2.—Dimitri D. Pokotiloff, a member of the Russian peace envoys' suite, arrived by the steamer Empress of Japan today. He is on the way to Portsmouth, N. H., where he will assist M. Witte and Baron Rosen in the forthcoming peace negotiations. M. Pokotiloff had gone to Pekin to succeed Paul Lessar as Russian minister, and had been there a week when he received a telegram from St. Petersburg directing him to proceed to the United States to attend the peace negotiations.

THINKS EPIDEMIC WILL BE KILLED WITHIN MONTH

Thomas J. M. McCoy Returns from New Orleans and Tells of Yellow Fever Conditions There.

Thomas J. McCoy of 5514 Baum street, who had been in New Orleans superintending the construction of a power plant, has returned home. Owing to the prevalence of yellow fever there all work has practically been suspended. Speaking of conditions in the southern city, Mr. McCoy says:

"The fever is confined to the foreign element. I do not know of a single case among the better classes. Mayor Behrman told me he was positive the epidemic will be stamped out within a month. The city has succeeded in keeping the fever confined to the old French quarters, down around Jackson Square, St. Louis and Philippi streets. They are making a great fight. Wards are divided into precincts and meetings are held to devise means to prevent the spread of the disease. Houses are being screened and oil is being put into wells, cisterns and cess pools to kill the mosquito eggs.

"For this purpose Beaumont, Tex., sent 10 carloads of crude. This is all that New Orleans has accepted from outside sources, although many cities have tendered assistance. The fever is supposed to have been brought in on a boat from one of the 'banana' republics. A quarantine is now being maintained over five blocks of the French quarter. The best doctors in the country, those who have made a study of yellow fever, are fighting the disease. The quarantine is very strict. No one is allowed to leave the train between New Orleans and Chattanooga. The doors and windows of the New Orleans cars are all locked and fresh air is at a premium."

Mr. McCoy says that while the epidemic materialized New Orleans was in the midst of great industrial activity. The presence of the fever has, of course, retarded the work, and he says it will take quite a long time for it to recover from the blow.

AGREE TO PROBE LIFE INSURANCE

Commissioners from Four States Take Initiative in a Broad Movement.

WILL BEGIN IN NEW YORK

CHICAGO, Aug. 2.—Three large insurance companies of New York are to be investigated by the insurance commissioners of Tennessee, Kentucky, Wisconsin and Minnesota as a result of a meeting of eight state insurance commissioners today. Another result of the conference is to be interstate inspection of all large life insurance companies, so that alleged misapplication of funds and mismanagement may become a thing of the past.

It was the unanimous opinion of the experts attending the convention that there should be interstate inspection of the insurance companies, thus insuring fair and unprejudiced reports. Only those commissioners known to be in favor of such a movement were invited to attend today's conference, and it is said a combination is to be formed whereby several commissioners will look into the business of all life insurance companies having license to operate in their states.

Some of those present at today's meeting were unable to agree with the men taking the initiative in the investigation, because of lack of power. These men, it is expected, will join the movement and make it unanimous among western and southern states.

The men who will go to New York on August 16 to begin the investigation are: Beau E. Folk, state treasurer and ex-officio insurance commissioner of Tennessee; Henry R. Prewitt, insurance commissioner of Kentucky; Zeno M. Host, insurance commissioner of Wisconsin, and T. D. O'Brien, insurance commissioner of Minnesota.

NEW YORK, Aug. 2.—The legislative committee which will investigate life insurance conditions and methods in this state met here today. Senator William N. Armstrong, the chairman, said that it might be some days before appointment of counsel is announced. The committee, he said, is desirous of getting some man of the caliber of Alton B. Parker, Joseph Choate or Frank S. Black.

District Attorney Jerome told Justice Davy in the criminal branch of the New York state supreme court today that he might call a special grand jury to investigate the Equitable Life Assurance society's affairs before the legislative committee has finished its investigation of life insurance conditions.

at the Mississippi side of the Lake Borgne canal to get a deckload of timber, but the Mississippi boats absolutely refused to allow a tug to go to the mouth of Pearl river to get the barge and rafts. The Brayhead had to leave without the cargo, and the agents and the owners will lay the matter before the British government.

Italians Hide Their Sick.

In spite of all that has been done to reassure them, many Italians try to conceal their cases. They are still stricken with panic, and they turn in fear from doctors and health officers.

It was due largely to the energy with which the Marine hospital forces got about the work of discovering hidden cases that Tuesday's record was made so large. With local inspectors they insisted on reaching spots where they believed cases to exist. Since this federal campaign has been in progress, cases have been turned up in the most unexpected places.

In one instance, when the officers had made a thorough inspection of a house and had failed to find a patient, they went through a skylight and found a sick man lying on the roof. In another case they found a patient concealed under a cistern. The other day a wagon, loaded with household goods and accompanied by Italians, started to cross on one of the ferries. Officers insisted on an investigation, and when the goods were unloaded a sick man was found in the bottom of the wagon.

Italians are said to be prone to sleeping without mosquito bars, while 99 per cent of other people in New Orleans in summer time sleep under netting to protect themselves against mosquitoes. The humbler Italians have in many instances refused to follow this custom.

Bars Out New Orleans Mail.

Postmaster Woodward today received a letter from the railway mail service at Atlanta saying that Greenville, Miss., hereafter would accept no letter mailed from New Orleans that had not been disinfected, and that under no circumstances would it receive newspapers. Greenville will doubtless be temporarily be without mail or newspapers.

The mosquito theory being accepted by the federal offices, disinfection of mail is regarded as unnecessary. Several Mississippi towns have written to New Orleans about mail fumigation. The postoffice will hold such mail until the scare is over, as fumigation will not be undertaken.

Gov. Vardaman had given consent to the establishment of a detention camp on the Mississippi side of the state line on the Louisville & Nashville railroad, and will arrange for the admission to Mississippi points of persons from New Orleans who enter the camp and are discharged with certificates of federal surgeons. There is no longer any obstacle to the movement of through passenger trains across Mississippi.

Mosquito Ordinance Signed.

Mayor Behrman today signed the mosquito ordinance as soon as it was placed on his desk. It was later published in the official journal and thus became a law. It requires that cisterns shall be oiled or screened within 48 hours by each property owner or his agent.

JACKSON, MISS., Aug. 2.—Gov. Vardaman left here today for the gulf coast to make a rigid investigation of the complaint from Gov. Blanchard of Louisiana, that Mississippi troops have invaded Louisiana territory and are patrolling near Lake Ricolets. On his return he said:

"I have received a telegram from Gov. Blanchard, stating that the Mississippi quarantine guards had entered the territory of Louisiana, and otherwise interfered with the rights of the people of Louisiana. I wired Gov. Blanchard this was without my knowledge or order, and that I should see it was not repeated.

"It is my purpose to increase the force of guards and double their vigilance. If the fever gets into Mississippi, Madame Stegomyia will have to fly high."

SHREVEPORT, ALA., Aug. 2.—There are no further cases of yellow fever at the detention camp, but there was a general exodus of people from the city yesterday afternoon and last night. Quarantine lines are very tightly drawn today. The parish board of health has ordered all trains from the south, over four railroads entering the city, stopped at the parish lines, the order applying to both freight and passenger trains.

Barney Tracey of Chicago, the patient at the detention camp, will probably recover. The city board of health today received word of a developed case of yellow fever on board a northbound Kansas City Southern train. The authorities at Mansfield were notified to stop the passenger.

MONTGOMERY, ALA., Aug. 2.—The single case of yellow fever at the emergency hospital is the only one in Montgomery and the patient is reported as convalescing. Among the places which have established a quarantine against Montgomery are Birmingham, Tuscaloosa and West Point.

LITTLE ROCK, ARK., Aug. 2.—Details of the state militia are being made today to guard the gateways to the state. Rigid shotgun quarantine will be enforced.

BRUNSWICK, GA., Aug. 2.—It was decided today to put on a rigid quarantine against all infected and suspected points as well as against all southern points, including Savannah.

WILL GO HUNTING FOR YELLOW FEVER MOSQUITOES

HARRISBURG, Aug. 2.—Dr. Samuel G. Dixon, state health commissioner, has arranged with an entomologist of the Philadelphia Academy of Natural Sciences to collect mosquitoes along the wharves in the Philadelphia harbor, where vessels carrying fruit are docked, to ascertain whether any yellow fever carrying mosquitoes are reaching Philadelphia.

No New Cases Reported.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2.—No new cases of yellow fever on the isthmus have been reported to the Panama canal commission. The last case was reported on July 28.

VETERANS OF 155TH HOLD THEIR REUNION

Survivors of Famous Old Regiment Gather Again at Kennywood Park.

A reunion of the One Hundred and Fifty-fifth regiment, Pennsylvania volunteers, 40 years ago, would have called forth at least 500 prominent men in Western Pennsylvania. Yesterday a remnant of the old command, gathered under the trees in Kennywood park and scarcely 100 were present at roll call. The small muster showed that time had made great inroads on the men who braved rebel bullets in the days of the '60s. Nevertheless, the old boys were there with all their old-time spirit and they showed the same enthusiasm that made them conspicuous on the battlefields of the Army of the Potomac in the days when the Republic was in danger.

The veterans held an all-day session at Kennywood yesterday. At 10:30 o'clock in the morning the assembly sounded and there wasn't a veteran in the park absent. Every One Hundred and Fifty-fifth man and his guests were furnished with a blue badge, which entitled them to all the courtesies of the grounds. After luncheon the "boys" gathered in the woods again and listened to the stirring speeches which recalled the days when the regiment "tented on the old camp ground." Judge Charles F. McKenna, who came all the way from Porto Rico, was master of ceremonies. There were vocal and instrumental selections by Miss Myrtle Holmes, Mrs. Charles Mahan and Miss Lora Cratty, and recitations by Mrs. Eva Morgan Mulvey and Miss Ellen Gertrude Weaver.

A program by the drum corps stirred all hearts. Speeches by the veterans followed. Col. E. J. Allen of Chicago was unable to be present and his coming evoked much disappointment. There were others, however, who were just as eloquent in heralding the One Hundred and Fifty-fifth's virtues. In the evening a multitude of young friends joined the veterans and made the hours speed swiftly with music and dancing.

Asks for Suggestions.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 2.—Grand Regent Frank B. Wickersham of the Pennsylvania jurisdiction, Royal Arcanum, issued a call to the officers and members of subordinate councils of the state yesterday asking for suggestions to be submitted to the supreme council when it reconvenes this month.

Thursday, August 3, 1905.

While city officials are hunting funds with which to make water main extensions, water consumers continue to pay an exorbitant price for their water. They have done this for years. They have paid annually many thousands of dollars in excess of the cost of maintenance of the plant and fixed charges, but they have not had good service. In private business such a state of affairs would be charged to incompetent administration.

While the price offered for the Perrysville road may look large, it is not more than the highway is worth to the public. It has paid good dividends on a larger sum to the private owners, and those dividends represent the sum paid by the people in excess of cost of maintenance. On that basis the investment is a good one, not to mention the added advantages of traffic that will come in over a free highway.

Pennsylvania guardsmen will have a new test at the coming target practice, namely, rapid fire with the regular army Krag-Jorgensen rifle. The rapidity of the modern magazine guns is marvelous. They are terrible in the mass. Yet American military practice admits of nothing so wasteful as random fire, so every soldier is expected to learn to aim straight at a particular object while working his rifle at high speed. The principle is correct.

Very gratifying conditions in the iron and steel markets are reported by the trade papers. The same is true of the underlying coke trade, all of which indicate at least as large production during the last six months of the year as during the first. The coal trade is also the largest in history. Add to this record breaking crops of wheat, oats, corn and hay, and it may be seen the prospects for transportation and general business are of the brightest.

The York county Republican convention accorded extremely courteous treatment to Henry C. Niles and his two delegate associates, but refused utterly to indorse their program to denounce the conduct of the Republican party in the state. The convention made the concession of adopting a gratuitous resolution affecting the local affairs of Philadelphia, where two Republican factions are at war. It might gracefully have left this thing undone, since the York county convention and the York county voters, cannot influence that struggle.

In Maryland the Gorman machine is using its every resource to fasten on the state a constitutional amendment that, under pretense of negro disfranchisement, contemplates the disfranchisement of every citizen who is not ready to do the bidding of Gorman. That amendment is one of the most outrageous political crimes ever attempted. Its defeat should engage the utmost energy of every Maryland Republican, and whatever time Secretary Bonaparte can spare from the duties of his office ought to be devoted to that object.

Director Moore of the department of public safety has been moved to remind the traction company that fenders are demanded by the public. Mr. Moore does not believe in the efficacy of fenders. He thinks a reduction of speed would save more lives. He is possibly right, but the law demands fenders and the public demands rapid transit. The fenders should be provided. It is within the police powers of the city to limit the speed of cars and that speed should be limited. How many miles an hour would Director Moore suggest?

An important event was that which was celebrated up in Michigan yesterday, the completion of the first "Soo" canal. Yesterday was the fiftieth anniversary of the event, and the second American canal and the Canadian canal, in full operation, bear testimony to what has come from that beginning. The traffic that now passes Sault Ste. Marie is one of the wonders of a century, the tonnage exceeding that of any ocean port in the world. This is the development of 50 years. The old canal, plus the Canadian canal, proved inadequate years ago; the new canal is already taxed to its utmost.

Reports concerning the abandonment of a baby on the South Side indicate a most remarkable mental attitude on the part of the parents. It is said one of them confesses they debated several ways to get rid of the child, not because they were unable to keep it properly, but because they did not desire to do so. If these reports be true, there is a call for an application of the law so vigorously as to not only correct the mental strabismus of this couple, but to impress upon other parents a sense of their legal duty to their offspring. Persons so devoid of a proper moral sense of duty and of parental affection, cannot be too strongly made to feel their legal obligations.

Larkin Sounds Warning.

City Controller John B. Larkin has uttered the annual cry of warning against reckless expenditures by the departments of municipal government. He declares these are, for the first five months, more than $195,000 in excess of the expenses for the same period of last year, and that, unless strict economy is practiced during the remainder of the fiscal year, there will be a large deficiency. The figures the controller presents are eloquent.

This proclamation savors more of the old Larkin—the Orphan Larkin—than the recent proclamation urging the people to vote a certain increase of half a mill in the city's fixed charges, with a probability that it would amount to more than one mill. In fact, the suggestion of a deficiency can hardly be contemplated without thinking also of Mr. Larkin, so long have they been associated in the public mind.

It is a pity this warning did not come before Director Bigelow departed for his vacation. That gentleman might have been moved to recant his assertion: "Larkin is not an Orphan now. He is elected." In fact this economy circular recalls the old, familiar days when Candidate Larkin argued that "10 mills on $300,000,000 is enough," and when Controller Larkin electrified the public with announcements of how the deficiency was being reduced. But, alas! memory brings pain. The average citizen would fain adopt the French motto and "forget it." There is such a wide chasm between 15 mills on $400,000,000 with a growing deficiency for inefficient administration, and 10 mills on $300,000,000 for good government.

Peace Envoys All Here.

M. Witte and Dr. DeMaartens, Russian peace envoys, arrived in New York yesterday, so the negotiations may soon begin at Portsmouth. Through Dr. DeMaartens the chief envoy, M. Witte, gave out a statement to the press that is flattering to the American people. He repeats that Russia would be united in resistance the moment war should threaten the country, though it is now indifferent, regarding the far eastern conflict as a distant colonial struggle. M. Witte may be right in his view, though it will hardly influence the Japanese in presenting their terms. The Russians who have been making riotous demands for peace have an odd way of exhibiting their indifference.

More to the purpose is M. Witte's declaration that he has come with the earnest purpose to secure peace if that be possible. In that sentence the real M. Witte stands forth, unobscured by the diplomatic twaddle intended to please the American people and that calculated to soften Japanese demands. The former Russian minister of finance appears to the best advantage as a peace advocate and formulator of plans for the interior development of his country.

It has been noted that Europe is extremely skeptical of the outcome of the peace conference. Even Emperor William of Germany, after his meeting with the czar, was represented as having small hope that peace will be concluded. This pessimism includes Russia, Japan and their allies, France and Great Britain. In this country alone the hopeful feeling predominates. The American expects a treaty of peace because, looking the situation squarely in the face, he can see no good reason for continuing the war. He is convinced that Russia's position is hopeless in the ultimate sequence, and he believes Japan can afford to be generous now rather than incur the expense in lives and treasure that further fighting will demand. This is the logical view, which takes account of facts and ignores idle sentiment.

Good Public Conscience.

Attorney General Moody declares the federal statutes and the common law are inadequate to procure legal punishment of all the misdoings in government departments that are offensive to the public conscience. Graft has invented new methods since the laws were enacted. It is probable, also, that public sentiment has advanced its sentiments of official morality.

President Roosevelt is expected to strongly recommend congressional action in the premises. He will likely ask for a number of new laws defining various offenses committed in the departments and providing penalties for the same. Meantime the department of justice can proceed with the thorough investigation of the public service, prosecuting all who have committed crime, and enabling the dismissal of those others who have kept within the letter of the law, while abusing the trust imposed on them. Dismissal in some cases will be as effective as fine and imprisonment.

President Roosevelt has been active along many lines since his accession to the presidency, four years ago. His administration, however, will be most marked by its strenuous effort in behalf of a higher morality. In his public utterances the president has repeatedly laid such stress on the necessity of having honesty in official circles, in business and in private life, that he must have been convinced the people were in danger of drifting from their moral moorings. He has given his official influence with all of his strength to establish and maintain high standards. He must be gratified by the public support given his efforts and, if he had feared moral turpitude on the part of the common people, he must be agreeably surprised by the almost universal approval of every attack on the unfit.

Mayor Dunne Blocked.

Mayor Dunne of Chicago is blocked again in his effort to secure immediate control of the street railways. Councils decline to pass an ordinance instructing the city's attorney to institute condemnation proceedings, and the attorney advises the mayor it would be illegal to proceed without such an ordinance. "Immediate municipal ownership" looks more hopeless than ever, and Chicago is to be congratulated upon the fact.

A proposal has been submitted to Mayor Dunne by the two leading railway companies, that is exquisite in its delicate sarcasm. The two companies ask to be allowed to take the place of the "trust" suggested by the mayor to operate all lines under municipal ownership. They agree to take over all the roads, the franchises for which have expired, operate them for the city, and pay over a portion of the receipts. It may be taken for granted this plan would be more profitable for the city than political management, but as it contemplates a complete monopoly in the hands of the two big companies that cannot be ousted, the mayor is not likely to overlook the sarcasm in the offer.

Strong Hand Needed.

Conflict between the states of Louisiana and Mississippi may render the yellow fever situation worse. The clash of authority and interest has been wholly unnecessary, the Mississippi authorities having acted without reason. This is no surprise, coming under the administration of Gov. Vardaman, who is totally unfit for the position he holds. At this juncture there ought to be perfect harmony in quarantine and other regulations to prevent the spread of the disease.

If federal authority could be exerted at New Orleans, as it was in Havana, equally good results could be expected. There does not appear to be good ground for the complaint of laxity on the part of the city health authorities, or that intelligence of the occurrence of the disease was suppressed. The first center was in a quarter where ignorance led first to concealment and later to panic. These conditions were met as well as the city health authorities might meet them, but they could have been better handled under a military control by the general government. It may yet be necessary for the federal government to take command.

There is no question of state's rights involved; it is simply one of the public health. There is danger, however, that any assertion of central authority may arouse the animosity of the south, especially when there is a Vardaman to deal with. Such considerations should not be allowed, in any case, to interfere with effective measures for protection of the people.

The sense of humor is not wholly lacking in Kansas. A Chanute paper prints, under a column account of the failure of four joint stock oil companies, a large type "ad" line: "Have you lost anything today?"

Eight county detectives have not been able to suppress all crime in this big county, but they have been able to close a shack or two in this city, under the eyes of a large police force.

Director Moore thinks if cars did not run so fast there would be no need for fenders. Very likely. If the cars were stopped altogether there would be no street car accidents.

One organ says the 18-foot hump cut is abandoned pending more settled political conditions. Meaning probably when the present administration has to "root hog, or die."

York county did not condemn the legislature, the administration or the Republican party organization. That sentiment was confined to Mr. Niles and two others.

Chicago has so many things of which a city cannot be proud that discovery of a torture chamber will probably not produce a severe shock.

There has been rioting in connection with a longshoremen's strike at San Juan. Another evidence that Porto Rico is being Americanized.

Considering the excessive charges for water there ought to be no need to get out a search warrant for funds to extend mains.

Kaiser Wilhelm is supposed to have the ear of four monarchs on the Baltic, but he hasn't seen his Uncle Edward yet.

Attorney General Moody finds the limit of the law much narrower than the field of graft operations.

The Leader hasn't any more sense than to exhibit its bitter disappointment to the public.

Striking telegraphers of the Pacific roads find the telephone lines "busy, now."

Gov. Folk continues to do his reforming with brass band accompaniment.

Vardaman is only a little worse than the yellow fever.

Butler cannot get away from the gusher habit.

Laxity of Law Enforcement.

The laxity of law enforcement in this country has cheapened the value of human life. Only one murderer in seventy-three is now punished capitally. This is reassuring to the man or woman who seeks to take a human life. It is placing a premium upon crime and making a travesty of justice. No wonder such low criminals as Bailey and Mrs. Myers feel encouraged.—Kansas City Journal.

Walked Home After Dark.

Trouble mighty cumsin',
En he'll make you tote his load.
Le'm go his way—
Don't tell him time er day;
Look out fer Mister Trouble
W'en he comin' down de road!

Pretty bright world,
With its troubles and jars—

—Frank L. Stanton.

Common sense is what we, as a people, are short on.

Troubles are mostly due to a lack of common sense—just plain common sense. Some folks call it good horse sense.

If a horse bites off a weed that tastes nasty or smarts its mouth, it avoids that same ever after. And if it brings up against a new sort of browse it investigates carefully before biting off a bunch of it.

Were people to exercise this sort of sense, which is nothing more than horse sense, they wouldn't have nearly so many regrets to record, nor so many kicks to register.

You may think you have lots more sense, and better, than a horse, but do you show it?

No doubt you know a lot of men and women who haven't a reasonably good supply of that sort of sense, or if they have they don't use it.

Are your bunkers pretty well stocked with this reliable trouble saver?

Yes, sir, common sense is the stuff that calms the boisterous waves of life's tempestuous sea, smooths the rough ways of travel and dispels the gloom that seems so eager to settle down upon our homes.

Science itself is only common sense, the art of seeing the eternal fitness of things.

Scientists, real scientists, are the simplest, most common sense sort of people that live. They do not strive to ascend the throne of God and look upon created matter and things from His point of view. Nor do they ever become so bold as to say that because they can't see through a thing or know all the whys and wherefores concerning it, that it is unknowable.

The true scientist gets at the facts; the true facts, so to speak, by first getting a free end and then unwinding it carefully. He must be careful and patient and not averse to noting simple things, shreds and ravelings though they often prove to be. He notes them with the simplicity of a child investigating the mystery of a toy.

Ask the successful scientist, inventor, poet, artist, teacher or preacher, what sort of sense he relies upon with most confidence and he answers, promptly and decidedly, common sense.

The very best kind of education, in fact, the only sort of schooling worth while, is that which develops common sense in the highest degree.

It is common sense that enables people to live at peace one with another, to prosper and grow better, day by day.

Even good horse sense will keep them from biting off bunches of bitterness the second time.

Cultivate common sense, and make practical use of it and you won't have any troubles worth speaking of.

Dear Quiet Observer—Replying to the questions propounded by "A Telephone Maiden" a few days ago, I am inclined to believe that they are not asked in all seriousness, for it is hard for one to believe that a "Hello Girl" could not answer each of these questions. However, there are, no doubt, persons, both male and female, of more mature age than this particular girl, who are not acquainted with the whys and wherefores of "spooning."

Concerning her first question as to whether or not gentlemen who work in restaurants are nice, would say that there are no reasons why they should not be, but as a rule they are of a class that one does not care much for their society. Cut 'em, unless they are your style and choice.

Is a man 27 too old for a girl 17? Yes. Each had better select persons nearer their ages for companions and associates. For myself, I would turn a sister of mine that age across my knee who had anything to do with a man of that age. No good can result from the formation of acquaintances of that wide difference in ages, unless the girl should be 20 or more.

Certainly it is improper to go to the business place of a gentleman, even if you know him, and why in the name of heaven should a girl be going to see a gentleman (?) that she never saw?

You can kiss "the fellow" provided you have known him long enough.

It is right and proper to make engagements with other than your "stiddy."

I am unable to understand why any "nice young man" would ask a girl to accompany him to Highland park, and my advice to her would be to stay at home.

If you do not know what "spooning" is ask your older sister or some of the other "Hello Girls."

A BACHELOR-GIRL TYPEWRITER.

Sure thing, a real "Hello Girl" knows all these things, and a whole lot besides. You see, in order to be a successful "Hello Girl," one has to have common sense, be smart enough to catch on to what dull people are trying to say, and to help them out.

There are a lot of other girls here and there the world over who may be fooled much easier, and fooled with more safety, than the real "Hello Girl," for her long suit is common sense, and she knows how to play her hand to make the greatest number of points.

No doubt there are some, many, in fact, who haven't worked out answers to all the questions asked by a "Telephone Maiden." To all such the answers given by a real typewriter girl are heartily commended. They have a ring to them that indicates good metal in her make-up.

It is a good plan to hitch your wagon to a star, only be certain to select a star that is clearly visible, and don't try to catch on to one that can be found only with the aid of a telescope.

The trouble with a great many who profess to be very smart is that they have hooked on to something out of sight, and when they get up to it they hope to find a world-startling something or other.

Haven't you hooked on to something when fishing that fairly caused your eyes to bulge out with expectation, and seemed to fully justify you in shouting so loudly that everybody would come a-running?

And when you got in sight of it, and saw it was only an old boot full of mud, haven't you wished you hadn't said a word?

Those who think they have hitched their wagons to telescopic stars are in much the same fix.

TALKED OF IN GOTHAM

By FRANK A. PARKER.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Aug. 2.—Today was a great day for the arrival home of distinguished citizens from abroad. Four great liners, the Oceanic, the Caronia, the Minneapolis and the Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse each brought in its quota, and in addition a few prominent foreigners. Chief among the "home folks" was, of course, J. Pierpont Morgan. He positively refused to tell an anxious people all about those 127 suits of clothes he is alleged to have accumulated during his absence, but those of his friends who were at the dock to greet him were well paid for their trouble, by seeing the great financier attired as they had never seen him before. His famous old square-topped derby had been replaced by a new Panama, he wore a stylish blue worsted suit with a white stripe in it, and his necktie presented a combination of bright colors that caused the crowd on the pier to stare in astonishment.

But it was his raiment alone that talked, the financier positively refused to go further with the conversation. "I have nothing to say," was the best the reporters got for their trouble. "If you have anything to say to me you will have to come to my office." He refused even to smile when the question of his 127 suits of clothes was mentioned, and he turned a deaf ear when asked if it was true that he had purchased control of a Chinese railroad and had been appointed financial agent to the pope.

Better Results With Morse Henry.

Henry Watterson of Kentucky was more talkative. The great editor has been abroad for many months, hobnobbing with the aristocracy of Europe, and he was full of comment on the aristocracy of America—and the difference. "I observed European aristocracy pretty closely," he admitted, "and I have come to the conclusion that it is a much better grade than the American article. There aristocracy means brains and lineage; here—well, it ranges chiefly from bad whisky to Standard Oil." When Marse Henry arrives home, he will probably have to explain that last sentence, for who in Kentucky ever heard of "bad whisky?"

Some Excitement on the Trip.

Both the Caronia and the Minneapolis had considerable excitement on the trip over. The former was caught in the great storm of Sunday. The passengers were greatly frightened, and the captain admitted it was the most awe-inspiring electrical display he had ever witnessed. The Minneapolis had two accidents. Before leaving the channel she collided with a fishing smack, but neither was seriously damaged. Later she struck a submerged wreck and lost one of the blades of the port propeller. The ship shivered from stem to stern and the passengers rushed on deck in fright, but the ship's officers soon succeeded in calming their fears.

Van Alen Not to Leave Us.

On the Caronia was L. Laurenz Van Alen, son of James J. Van Alen. The young man indignantly denied the published report that his father was to dispose of his Newport villa and renounce his allegiance to the United States. "I saw him just before I sailed," young Mr. Van Alen said, "and he was very wroth over the report. He has never for a moment thought of becoming a citizen of any other country, and all stories to the contrary are without even a foundation in fact.

It's All Right to Kick Sometimes.

Magistrate Mayo today legally defined the proper time and place to kick. Anton Pout, an apartment house janitor, was before the magistrate charged with annoying Anton Kjust, a music teacher, his wife and their 18-year-old daughter. It was alleged he had thrown stones at their dog, threatened to remove the heart from the old gentleman, and even went so far as to stop his pupils, and ask them why they wanted to take lessons "from such an old Dutch fool." When asked why he did all these things, Pout said it was because the daughter was a dancer and practiced high kicking at home, to the annoyance of the other tenants, and caused them to spend much time at their windows, looking at her antics. "It's not against the law for a girl to kick in her own home," the magistrate decided, especially when that's the way she makes her living. Those who do not like it need not look." Then he told the janitor to go home and try to be good.

Jiu-Jitsu Proves Failure Against Odds.

Charley Yu, a Japanese sailor, tried Jiu-Jitsu early this morning when he was held up by four men, but he failed to prevent them getting away with his $12. "I have tried it against two men, often," he said, "and it worked. But four seem too great odds. In that case one really needs a gun," he added. However, he followed the thieves and had the satisfaction of seeing two of them arrested. But the two who escaped had his money.

Revolvers Sold at Auction.

Revolvers of all sizes and shapes, all of which could probably tell dark tales of the seamy side of the city if they could speak, were put up at auction in the yard behind police headquarters in Mulberry street today. There were 1,500 of the weapons, and about 200 pawnbrokers and others bid on them. It was the 65th annual sale of confiscated weapons, and was conducted by an auctioneer who began by telling prospective bidders no bid of less than a quarter would be recognized. The pawnbrokers got most of the property. Whenever an everyday sort of citizen tried to get in a bid they soon run the property far above its real value, and they were soon allowed to have the sale to themselves.

An American Flying Machine.

It is safe to wager that if a practical flying machine is ever perfected the inventor will be an American. The energy and intelligence that have been put into experiments with airships constitute the best possible assurance that the idea is not entirely visionary. The American inventor as a rule is a pretty strict utilitarian and averse to wasting his time in mere romancing.—Washington Star.

AMERICAN SILK

Attempt to Introduce Growing in This Country.

In an article on the attempt to establish silk growing in America a writer in the World Today has this account of the activities of the states:

The manufacturers do not believe that silk may be raised profitably in America. We shall see that the national government, several state governments and an increasing number of individuals not in the silk manufacturing business have a different point of view. While in the past there have been efforts to establish silk culture in the United States, there has never been such a widespread movement to this end as at present. This movement differs from all others that have preceded it in that it is state and national, rather than merely individual or corporate.

In Georgia the work has been going forward rapidly. Reports show some 50,000 mulberry trees already set out and extensive preparations under way for the development of the industry. In North Carolina the department of agriculture of the state announced at the beginning of 1903 that it would find a market for all cocoons raised in the state that year. This state is also producing silkworms and selling them to citizens at cost. A bulletin has been issued by the state describing in detail the method of silk cultivation, so that those interested may enter upon the work fully prepared for it.

The Utah Legislature Acts.

In Utah the legislature has appropriated several thousands of dollars per annum for experimental work in silk culture, and the industry has now so far advanced that raw silk in small quantities is now being put upon the market. A late report of the silk commission of the state shows that the production of silk in the state is steadily advancing. Nearly 1,000 pounds of cocoons were raised last year, a bounty being paid on them to increase production. The planting of mulberry trees is certainly going on. The silk commission has done a large amount of missionary work among the people. Sixteen classes in silk weaving and in instruction in the production of silk are under the supervision of the commission. Marked interest is shown and a knowledge of the industry is rapidly spreading throughout the state.

In California a bill was passed by the state legislature in 1903 appropriating $5,000 for experimental work in silk culture, but failed to receive the signature of the governor because of lack of funds in the public treasury. For 15 years silk raising on a small scale has been carried on in the city of San Diego, in the heart of a specially favored region for silk culture, by a woman, Mrs. Carrie Williams, who is devoting her life to the interests of American silk. She has been able to produce silk every month in the year consecutively, keeping on hand in cold storage a supply of eggs for hatching, and finding the mulberry true in leaf every month in the year. She has produced, also, on the judgment of silk experts, larger cocoons and finer in quality than any produced in foreign countries, thus insuring finer grades of silk. So constant is the climate in this region, having for a period of half a century shown but few degrees variation in temperature between winter and summer, the work which she has done on a small scale becomes wholly feasible on a large scale. Indeed, the work has already been commenced, a company having been organized and upward of 40 acres having been set out to mulberry trees now in full leaf.

Persistent Experiments in California.

Thirty years ago at Santa Barbara, a sea town some 200 miles up the coast from San Diego, a company began the manufacture of silk upon a quite elaborate scale. A large building was in use and several hundred hands were employed. Although the enterprise was not successful at the time, due mainly to the fact that there was then no connection with the outside world and no feasible method of getting the product to market, it was demonstrated on a comparatively large scale that the conditions for silk culture were superior to those of any other region in any foreign country, while the silk produced was of the finest quality known on the market.

Other states in the warmer portions of the southwest and in the south are becoming interested in the movement, but even more significant, from some points of view, is the attitude of the national government. A systematic effort is now being made to place the silk-growing industry in the United States upon a stable basis, the department of agriculture having the work in charge. Not only has the government taken a deep interest in the matter, going so far as to supply all who ask with a complete outfit of raising silk—literature on the subject, silk-worm eggs, mulberry tree cuttings and the like, all free of cost—but the government now buys cocoons at current European rates from all those to whom outfits have been sent.

In addition to all this, a reeling device has been perfected and patented which promises to revolutionize the whole silk-reeling industry and to remove any further inequalities by reason of the tariff between home and foreign-grown silks. By the new invention the silk is taken direct from the wet cocoon, twisted into thread, dried in a hot-air chamber as it passes through the machine, and is wound directly upon spools ready for immediate use in weaving, without the re-reeling now necessary with the imported silks, which are laboriously wound off the cocoons upon reels by hand. The filament may also be thrown immediately upon reels if skeins are demanded. The inventor is an elderly man, for many years interested in silk weaving in Europe, but who has for some years been living in California.

Niagara Is There Yet.

The Niagara of today is not the Niagara of a year ago. And it is a great pity that this great and historic object of nature-loving pilgrims should so soon become a mere tradition. The same may be said of hundreds of other and lesser points of beauty and grandeur in America. We are simply living up our scenery and sacrificing the wonders of the out-of-doors upon the altar of our insatiable commercial appetite.—Kansas City Journal.

Municipal Carelessness.

Municipal carelessness in respect to public health is always dangerous and frequently deadly. This must be doubly the case in a community situated in the tropical portion of the country and in constant trade communication with regions to the southward, where yellow fever usually has its origin. It is as true with respect to commercial interests as it is in regard to the preservation of human life.—Philadelphia Bulletin.

Soiling the Maggots.

The surgeon of the Kniaz Potemkin said to an officer who declared he saw worms in the meat supplied to the sailors that he must have seen the meat when it came on board at Odessa. "Since then I have had it salted. It is now good and fit to eat." The supply of salted worms in the ration will explain the mutiny and create astonishment that mutinies are not more general.—Philadelphia Record.

A Hint to Preachers.

When our preachers cease wasting their strength on effects and attack the cause with the power of the gospel—when they adopt the method of John Knox and lead men first to fear God—when they implant right in the human heart—then the public evils about us will be abated, for the spring of corruption will be cleansed.—Chicago Inter Ocean.

Won't Be on Miles' Staff.

From the Chicago Record-Herald.

General Miles appears at present to be the leading Democratic candidate for governor of Massachusetts. There is no likelihood that he will, in case he is elected, think for a moment of appointing Gen. Corbin his chief of staff.

PICKED UP IN LOBBIES

Training Men for Uncle Sam.

Capt. F. E. Trippe of the Twelfth cavalry, U. S. A., passed through Pittsburgh last night in charge of a special delegation of recruits for the service of Uncle Sam. The recruits came from the Jefferson barracks, St. Louis, where they have been in training since their enlistment. They are en route to Ft. Myers, Va., where they will be placed in the field artillery service. There were 17 recruits in the party, occupying a special Pullman car on the Pennsylvania system. "I have no trouble with the young men," said Capt. Trippe last evening at the Union station, where his neat regulation cavalry uniform attracted admiring attention of passersby. "For they have been in training long enough to know how to take care of themselves, and to know that they must take care of themselves or suffer punishment. Those young men are from all over the United States excepting from New York and New England, from which districts no recruits are gathered to the Jefferson barracks. Some of them have been in training 30 days, while others have been there 90 days or possibly longer. They will be placed in the regular service of the United States army at Ft. Myers, where they will be drilled in field artillery practice." Capt. Trippe is now stationed at the Jefferson barracks in charge of Company A of the recruits.

Away for Vacation Jaunts.

Attorney and Mrs. E. M. Curry of Pittsburgh, accompanied by their son and A. G. Wilson and J. W. Taylor of Wilson, Pa., and James Taylor of Brownsville, left over the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie yesterday afternoon for a vacation sojourn in the Muskoka lake region of Canada. They will spend the month of August in the north.

William Gessing, who has been in the employ of the firm of Weyman & Bro., tobacco and snuff manufacturers, for about 40 years, will leave Pittsburgh in a few days with his wife for a trip abroad. They will leave New York on the Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse August 5, and will be absent for some time.

Magistrate J. J. Kirby of police station No. 2 left last night for Springfield Lake, O., where he will join the Central Hunting and Fishing club, of which he is president, for two weeks of camp life. Magistrate J. F. Kline will preside in his stead at No. 2 station.

William Crawford, clerk at the Hotel Newell, has gone to Atlantic City for a vacation of two weeks.

Schwab Going to Seashore.

Charles M. Schwab will leave today for a sojourn at Atlantic City, accompanied by his family. Mr. Schwab has been spending some time at his summer home at Loretto. He will travel in his private car, Loretto, going east from Cresson on train No. 12 of the Pennsylvania.

Cadets Going to Camp.

The Cadet corps of the First Presbyterian church of Pittsburgh will leave in special cars over the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie railroad for Friendship Hill, near Point Marion, for camp. They were preceded Tuesday afternoon by a detail, consisting of Capt. J. D. Taylor, Lieut. H. Byron and Lieut. W. Duff, to prepare the camp. There will be about 150 members of the party in charge of Major George J. Russell, assistant pastor of the church, as commandant. The camp will consist of about 50 tents and military regulations will be enforced. Capt. R. J. Mercer is in command of Company A, Capt. E. Horton commands Company B, Dr. F. D. Miller is surgeon, Lieut. Bland is assistant surgeon and W. Billingham is hospital steward. The camp will continue 10 days.

Railroad Men on the Go.

R. L. O'Donnell, general superintendent of the Buffalo & Allegheny Valley division of the Pennsylvania, came down over the line from Buffalo yesterday to make a close personal inspection of the road and particularly to the improvements under way. The double-track work at Redbank is progressing nicely and will likely be ready for track laying by September 1. Mr. O'Donnell returned to Buffalo last night.

Herbert A. Jaggard, general agent of the Pennsylvania system in Pittsburgh, went to New England last evening.

General Car Inspector R. L. Kleine, Assistant Chief Car Inspector Charles O. Kelley and J. K. Roush, L. Leonard and E. W. Pastor Will Take a Cruise.

The Rev. Thomas Parry, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, Wilkinsburg, left yesterday for Egypt, Mass., where he will remain two weeks. From there he will go to New York, where for a week he will be the guest of Mr. Frederick D. Underwood, president of the Erie railroad. In company with the latter he will take a week's cruise in the Underwood steam yacht. He will return September 15.

Octogenarian Fisherman's Trip.

H. K. Morse of Poland, O., left yesterday with his son, E. K. Morse of this city, for ten days' fishing on the south branch of the Potomac. They will stop at John Miller's West Virginia farm, and for some of their fishing at the mouth of the Trough, which is noted for good bass. Although Mr. Morse, Sr., is nearly 84, he is very active, a good swimmer, and noted for his ability as a fisherman. This trip is especially interesting to him, as it revives the days when as a merchant he rode the Cleveland & Pittsburgh stage from his present residence to Pittsburgh, thence by boat to Brownsville and by hack to Cumberland, one way, and back by the Pennsylvania road the other. His last trip from Cumberland by stage to Brownsville was made in '56, about the time the B. & O. was building over the mountains.

HOT ON TRAIL OF RECKLESS DRIVER

Automobile Club Offers $500 Reward for Chauffeur Who Ran Down Italian.

URGE POLICE TO ACTION

An additional incentive was offered yesterday to stimulate the search for F. Hodge, the chauffeur who is said to have run down Angelo Pouch, an Italian, in Schenley park last Saturday. The board of governors of the Automobile club of Pittsburgh met in special session at the Duquesne club and decided to offer a reward of $500 for the capture and conviction of the guilty party. In the opinion of the members the action was wanton and has a tendency to bring down criticism on the heads of every member of the club. The Pittsburgh Golf club has also offered a reward of $100 for the arrest of the guilty party.

James Francis Burke, vice president and counsel for the Automobile club, presided at the meeting in the absence of President Turner. There were present: W. W. Darley, W. C. Temple, George H. Flinn, Secretary Smith, Treasurer Kneeland and E. J. Kent. Every member of the board expressed himself in the strongest terms of condemnation. At the conclusion of the discussion a motion was unanimously adopted offering a reward of $500 for the arrest and conviction of the guilty man. Mr. Burke immediately prepared the following notice and had copies served on Superintendent Thomas A. McQuaide of the bureau of detectives and Superintendent Wallace of the police department:

Pursuant to authority this day given by the board of governors of the Automobile club of Pittsburgh, a reward of five hundred dollars will be paid by said club for the arrest and conviction of the person driving the automobile by which Antonio Pouch was struck and injured on the afternoon of Saturday, July 29, 1905.

JAMES FRANCIS BURKE, Vice President.
W. L. SMITH, Secretary.

"If it is found," said Mr. Burke, "that the guilty party is a member of the Automobile club he will be promptly expelled in addition to being prosecuted, as there appears to be ample evidence, furnished by such men as Judge James H. Reed, Albert J. Barr, Mr. Guthrie and Mr. Laughlin, who saw the affair, to convict him of the grossest criminality. Sensible automobile owners suffer continuously from the prejudice created by such conduct on the part of a few and they propose to aid in putting a stop to it."

F. Hodge, who is supposed to be the driver of the car, left Pittsburgh on an early train Monday morning. His description has been sent everywhere. If apprehended, George C. Smith, vice president in the Westinghouse building, can positively identify him. Hodge was formerly sales agent for Banker Brothers.

There will be a meeting of the members of the Automobile club at the club house on Saturday night at 8 o'clock for the purpose of distributing cups won at the recent race meet. There will be a smoker in connection with it.

APOSTLE OF SUNSHINE WILL BE THE SPEAKER

Dr. A. A. Willits to Make Principal Address at the United Presbyterian Outing.

"The Apostle of Sunshine," Dr. A. A. Willits has been secured for the main address at the great outing at New Rock Point park tomorrow, when the United Presbyterians and their friends from all this section of the United States will meet for their annual reunion. Dr. Willits, who, in spite of his four-score years, retains all the vigor of youth, is widely known for his ability as a lecturer.

The musical portion of the auditorium exercises will be furnished by the Amphion male quartet of Pittsburgh, composed of J. C. Whitfield, Frank J. Neely, George S. Boyd and A. C. Cowperthwaite.

The arrangements for the big athletic meet, which will be a special feature of the day, have been completed. Among those who will take part are Roland Deevers, who will contest in the 100-yard dash and the broad jump; Hugh Lambie, half-mile and 440-yard dash; Elder Marshall, half-mile run and 220-yard dash; J. C. McCloy, 220-yard dash; Harry Patton, 100-yard dash; Emmett Minter, high jump and putting-the-shot.

The Etna and Tarentum baseball teams will play a morning game. In the afternoon the winner of the forenoon game will be pitted against a team selected by Prof. D. L. McBride, the Ohio athletic.

In the morning there will be also a lawn tennis tournament. The day's entertainment will conclude with a big display of daylight fireworks.

The 19 special trains engaged to carry the crowd from Pennsylvania, Ohio and West Virginia, will stop at between 175 and 200 stations, the starting points of the trains in Ohio being Bellaire, Salinesville, Cadiz, Cambridge, Millersburg, Wooster and Youngstown; and in Pennsylvania, Pittsburgh, Linesville, Stoneboro, Greensburg, Kitanning, Tarentum, West Newton, Glenshaw, Foxburg and Punxsutawney.

William Patterson's Condition Critical.

NEW CASTLE, Aug. 2.—(Special.)—The condition of William Patterson, president of the National bank of Lawrence county, who has been ill at his home here for the past four weeks, is regarded as exceedingly critical. He is in his eighty-first year.

MUST QUALIFY AT RAPID FIRE

There Is Little Chance at Mt. Gretna for Those Who Cannot Shoot Fast.

FINE TROPHIES OFFERED

The marksmen of the National Guard of Pennsylvania this year will be obliged to qualify as rapid-fire shooters if they hope to capture national trophies at the shoot at Sea Grit, N. J. The orders for the state contest at Mt. Gretna next week have been laid down with especial instructions for the men to show their ability to hit the target at long range and at rapid-fire practice. Those who do not quality in this respect will be barred from the national team.

Col. Frank K. Patterson, inspector general of rifle practice of the Pennsylvania guard, has completed arrangements for the state shoot at Mt. Gretna. The teams representing the organizations of the Second brigade will leave Pittsburgh on a special car on the Pennsylvania roalroad at 8 o'clock on Sunday morning. Each command will be entitled to six men, being four enlisted men with one reserve and one commissioned officer. The teams will be commanded as follows:

Fourteenth regiment, Capt. George B. Shields; Eighteenth, Capt. Edward Riddle; Tenth, Capt. Blaine Aiken; Fifth, Capt. D. W. Simpson; Sheridan troop, Lieut. Zentmeyer; Sixteenth, Capt. Bliss; Troop F, Capt. J. V. Cunningham. The team practice will begin at 8 o'clock Monday morning and will continue until Friday. When the summaries for the week will have been made Col. Patterson will select his team of 12 men who will take part in the national shoot at Sea Grit.

Gov. Pennypacker, Adjt.-Gen. Stewart and the three brigade commanders expect to attend the shoot. The rapid-fire contest will be in direct keeping with the new tactics, and the men will be obliged to make a good record while firing five shots in 20 seconds at a range of 200 yards.

The skirmish rifle practice which will test the ability of practically all the crack marksmen of the guard will be begun at a distance of 600 yards with advances to a range of 200 yards from the target. The schedule will be as follows: Two shots at 600 yards, two at 500, three at 400, three at 250, five at 300 and five at 200 yards. Thirty seconds will be allowed for each halt except the last, which will be limited to 20 seconds.

The prizes this year are finer than ever offered at a military rifle match in this state. The brigade trophy with medals to each member of the successful team is one that has created much rivalry. The rapid-fire trophy is offered by Col. Harry Trexel of the governor's staff, and is now on exhibition in the show window of Hardy & Hays. The rapid-fire match trophy is offered by the state for the highest efficiency in the cavalry shoot.

In the officers' revolver contest a gold medal is offered by Col. Homer J. Lindsay, and Col. W. T. Bradley offers a gold and bronze medal for the revolver match. In the expert revolver match a gold and bronze medal is offered by Maj. Charles J. S. Miller. Gov. Pennypacker offers a gold medal for the champion shot, and of all the prizes this is the most coveted.

Col. Patterson says that he expects to take the best team the Pennsylvania guard has yet sent forth to the national shoot at Sea Grit. The competition between the rival brigades and rival regiments never was so marked as at present, and all the organizations have had their men on the shooting ranges for several weeks preparing for the contest.

MAN'S CONSCIENCE MAKES HIM PAY FOR BOY'S PRANK

MARION, O., Aug. 2.—(Special.)—Twenty-nine years ago David Seas, a farmer, had a pair of middle rungs stolen from a plow. Tracks leading from the plow showed that the rungs had been taken by a gang of boys. Today Seas received a letter from the culprit, now a man well up in years, saying he was conscience stricken and inclosing a dollar in payment for the plow rungs. The letter came from a little town in Pennsylvania.

PRETTY LUNA PARK IS ENVELOPED BY ELKS

Third Annual Outing Takes to New Pleasure Ground a Very Large Crowd.

Luna park was enveloped by Elks last night. The third annual outing of the Pittsburgh lodge took to the pretty pleasure grounds its largest crowd of the season. There was a good afternoon attendance, but the night's crush broke all records. It is estimated that at one time there were over 40,000 people basking in the rays of the myriads of electric lights. The crowd was made up not only of Pittsburgh Elks, but was augmented by their brothers from surrounding towns. Given a crowd of several thousands Elks and opportunities such as are afforded by Luna and her attractions, and the things that follow are bound to be lively. The Elks had made arrangements which gave them control of all the various amusement places, and with their friends they fairly made things hum.

Everywhere in Luna Elk buttons and Elk badges were displayed. The grand opera program rendered by Innes' band was listened to with evident enjoyment, hundreds of Elks applauding vigorously the anvil chorus. The dancing pavilion was turned over to the Elks for the afternoon and evening and two dances were held. The afternoon dance was for the children of the members, who in the evening gave place to their elders.

The outing was under the direction of the following committee: F. H. McCarthy, C. H. Slevin, P. H. Mellon, F. H. Luebbe, Saul Susman, Thomas Hodges, S. Y. Bromley, Sol Coulson, W. W. Robinson, W. H. Hall, L. V. McTighe, P. Brennan, George McIntyre, T. Desmond, W. C. Adams, H. C. Neale and George W. Allen.

Big Business For the Dull Month

The Pittsburgh Agency of the Equitable Life Assurance Society has just closed another month of remarkable prosperity, having done a total business during July of in spite of the fact that July is usually the dullest month in the entire year. And a very satisfactory feature of this business is that over 92 per cent of it was settled for when the application was made.

The total business of the agency so far this year is just about an even million dollars a month.

What more convincing proof could there be of the confidence the people of Western Pennsylvania have in

CHIEF STATISTICIAN HYDE SAYS HE WILL RETURN HOME AT ONCE

Secretary Wilson Greatly Pleased With the News. He Will Be Subpoenaed to Appear Before the Grand Jury—Several Statements Issued.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2.—James Wilson, secretary of agriculture, has persuaded John Hyde, former chief statistician of the department of agriculture, to return to the United States and lend his aid to the investigation of the leakages and manipulation of figures of the cotton reports. Mr. Hyde slipped quietly away to England on the Etruria, after he had resigned under a hot fire of criticism from the Southern Cotton association. Last week Mr. Wilson sent to Mr. Hyde a cablegram telling him that he was wanted in Washington and had better return. This cable dispatch reached Mr. Wilson today from Mr. Hyde at Southport, near Liverpool:

"Returning as soon as possible. Letter."

"That's good news," declared Mr. Wilson.

Mr. Hyde will be subpoenaed before the grand jury as a witness immediately when he returns. The grand jury is now, according to an admission made in court by District Attorney Beach, proceeding against Edwin S. Holmes, Jr., the associate statistician of the department of agriculture, for attempting to bribe another government official.

Secretary Wilson designated today as a member of the new board of statistics of the department of agriculture, P. L. Hutchinson, a brother of Director Hutchinson of the Mississippi college of agriculture. It is the secretary's intention to displace the members of the temporary board recently appointed as soon as he can find suitable men to fill the positions. Mr. Hutchinson, who is a resident of New Orleans, was associated with Mr. Stubbs, former director of the Louisiana experiment station.

Secretary Wilson today issued a statement relating to a charge that his son and private secretary, Jasper Wilson, made a trip to Alaska about a year and a half ago at the expense of the department. He says:

"There was a dispute between the miners of Alaska and other people not living in Alaska, with regard to the condition of the game there. Delegations from Alaska came here protesting bitterly against sending anybody in there with permission to shoot and bring out trophies. Congress had given me power to grant permits and we were giving them freely for a while. I wanted to know the facts, so I sent my private secretary up there and he was to bring back a report to me. This he did. He was a salaried officer here, and the department paid his actual traveling expenses, of course."

Secretary Wilson today also issued a statement denying that employes of the forestry service have written articles for magazines prior to the publication of the results of government work in public reports.

EXCLUSION ACT AT A STANDSTILL

Secretary Taft's Visit to China May Result in Better Terms With Chinese.

WILL LOOK INTO THE BOYCOTT

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2.—Secretary Taft's approaching visit to Shanghai is being awaited with much interest by all government officials who have to do with either the formation of the new treaty with China or with the boycott movement against American goods, now being carried forward in that country. He is the only member of the president's own family who has openly declared that the exclusion laws must be given a more liberal construction, and their execution performed in a manner less likely to give offense to visiting Orientals of education and culture and business prominence.

Negotiations for the new Chinese treaty are still at a standstill, according to an authority in the state department.

The draft of the treaty published this morning from Seattle is merely the translation from Chinese papers of a draft which was submitted by China to this government about seven or eight months ago, and rejected by the United States. It contains many provisions which are actually prohibited by the existing exclusion laws, and others which require legislation which the state department is not hopeful of obtaining from congress at any near session, since its rejection nearly a dozen other drafts have been presented by both sides.

The negotiations seem to have split upon a vitally important rock of difference. The Chinese minister desires the admission of all classes of his countrymen who are not specifically excluded by name in the present laws. On the other hand, the American idea is that none should be admitted except those who are specifically denominated in the laws. An illustration was given at the state department this afternoon of a student who in the summer vacation earns money as a waiter or other employe at a seaside resort. Under the department's interpretation of the exclusion acts, such a person, were he a Chinaman, would fall under the classification of a laborer. Another objection by this government is the certification of immigrants by Chinese sources.

NEW SENSATIONS DUE IN QUAKER CITY MUDDLE

Conference of Mayor Weaver and Advisers Expected to Lead to Police Upheaval.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 2.—Fresh sensations are expected in the civic upheaval. Mayor Weaver and the majority of the members of the cabinet participated in a conference which lasted until late last night, and at which they reached a decision to take immediate action to safeguard the interests of the city. What that decision was is expected to be announced tomorrow.

The conference was held in the office of former Judge Gordon, counsel for the mayor, and those present, in addition to Judge Gordon, were Director of Public Safety Potter, Director of Supplies Frederick J. Shoyer, Assistant Director of Public Works Thomas L. Hicks and Assistant Director of Public Safety Thomas South.

Director Potter's presence, and the fact that Assistant Director South held a long consultation yesterday afternoon with Superintendent of Police Taylor, were taken to indicate that the action to be taken is in connection with the police force. Wholesale dismissals are expected, and also some sensational arrests.

NEWS OF THE NEARBY TOWNS AND COUNTRY

NOON-HOUR SAFEGUARDED FOR FACTORY EMPLOYES

Permits to Shorten It Will Not Be Granted Where Plants Break Law and Hands Do Not Favor It.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

HARRISBURG, Aug. 2.—Only where all the provisions of the new factory inspection law are now observed in an establishment, and where this condition is supplemented by a request of the majority of the employes, made in writing, can a permit be granted by a deputy factory inspector to reduce the full hour at noon.

Written notice to this effect was sent by State Factory Inspector Delaney today to each of his deputies, some of whom have issued noon-day permits in establishments where the law was flagrantly violated. Inspector Delaney says such conduct is subversive of law and discipline, injurious to the employes and, if not discontinued, will bring the department into bad repute.

Deputies have been instructed that a permit must not be issued to reduce the noon-hour in establishments where they find children employed illegally; where machinery is not guarded; where there are not separate water closets; where the elevators and pits are not protected; where the sanitation is bad; where seats are not provided for the use of girls or adult women; where the hours of labor are not observed, or where there is any violation of a legal duty imposed by statute upon employers.

STEALS DIAMONDS; ESCAPES.

Negro Gets Away With a Tray of Rings from a Camden (N. J.) Jeweler.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 2.—(Special.)—With a tray containing 30 diamond rings, valued at $1,000, a negro dashed from a jewelry store and escaped today. The theft was committed in broad daylight, and the thief passed many persons in his flight, but no attempt was made to stop him.

The jewelry was stolen from Thomas Smedley & Son, at 92 Broadway, Camden. Two negroes entered the store and the smaller of the men asked to be shown a watch fob. His companion stood near the door, lounging against the showcase.

When several watch fobs were shown to the smaller negro by Smedley, the former asked for a pair of cheap sleeve buttons. To get these Smedley had to turn his back for a minute, and this gave the other negro the chance he had been waiting for. Reaching over the counter he grabbed the tray of rings and slipped out of the store.

BYERLY FAMILY MEETS ON HISTORIC GROUND

Celebrates Anniversary of Bushy Run Fight, and Plans Monument for Col. Boquett.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

IRWIN, PA., Aug. 2.—At Brush Creek church today a large crowd celebrated the anniversary of the battle of Bushy Run, in 1763, in connection with the Byerly family reunion. The celebration also commemorated the arrival of the force under Col. Henry Boquet, which relieved the besieged settlers, among whom was Michael Byerly, his wife and two children. Byerly, the founder of the present family, after the battle of Bushy Run, became closely associated with Col. Boquet in Indian fighting.

The Byerly family numbers many prominent people of this part of the state among its members. The morning was spent in visiting the Bushy Run battlefield, the old Brush Creek burying ground and in renewing old acquaintances. The old church was selected as the place of meeting. The Rev. Dr. Cyrus Cort of Paulton read a historical sketch of Boquet's campaign and the Byerly family. He made a strong appeal for a monument to Col. Boquet, who opened Western Pennsylvania 20 years earlier to the pioneers than ever Washington predicted. He stated that to start such a monument fund the trustees of Brush Creek church agreed to donate the plot for a monument and subscribe $200, provided $2,000 more was raised.

Robert A. Boucher of Pittsburgh took the place of Mayor Hays on the program. His great-grandfather was an officer under Boquet in the war of 1763. Curtis Gregg of Greensburg, the next speaker, favored an appeal to the legislature for an appropriation for a monument to Boquet. George W. Flowers of Irwin had a motion carried for a permanent organization of the Byerly family. A committee was appointed and the following officers selected: The Rev. Cyrus Cort, president; Christ Cribbs of Greensburg, vice president; Harry E. Cope of Greensburg, secretary; Frank R. Rankin of Manor, treasurer. Executive committee, George W. Flowers and William B. Skelly of Irwin and John R. Hayden of Greensburg, and Mrs. Emma Byerly of McKeesport. Legislative committee, Curtis H. Gregg of Greensburg, the Hon. William B. Hays of Pittsburgh, Col. Samuel M. Jackson of Indiana, Prof. Andrew Byerly of Millersburg and D. H. Rankin of Penn. By resolution the committees were instructed to push along the monument project, so that at the next reunion arrangements for its dedication could be made.

GEN. WOOD SAYS TALK IS UNTRUE

Declares President Has No Intention of Putting Him on General Staff.

HAS REGAINED HIS HEALTH

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

BOSTON, MASS., Aug. 2.—Maj. Gen. Leonard Wood today denied the story from Washington that President Roosevelt was trying to make him a member of the general staff of the army against the wishes of that body and of Lieut. Gen. Chaffee.

"There is not the slightest shadow of foundation for any such story, as far as I know," said Gen. Wood, and he added that the possibility of his becoming a member of the general staff had never been mentioned between him and the president.

That Gen. Wood has entirely recovered his health, no one who saw him today could doubt. His eye was bright and clear, his skin slightly tanned by the sun and his step elastic. He is at present at the home of a friend near Boston, where he will remain for a week or two longer on the advice of his physician, but spends most of his time in the open air taking long walks every day and playing golf.

"I feel as well as I ever did in my life," said the general. "I consider that I have entirely recovered from my illness and I think no one can doubt this if you tell them that the physician under whose care I have been has sailed for Europe. He would hardly have left me here if he did not consider my condition satisfactory. The doctor was very anxious that I should have a thorough rest before starting out on my return and I have consented to stay here two weeks longer. I shall leave here about the end of August and will sail for the Philippines from the Pacific coast in September.

"I came to the United States solely for a surgical operation for an old injury on my head," continued the general, "and I have no expectation or desire to be stationed in the United States for a number of years yet. I expect to be in the Philippine Islands for at least two years more."

In reply to a question as to the exact nature of the injury to his head, Gen. Wood said that it was caused by a 50-pound chandelier during his stay in Santiago in 1896. "I was sitting directly under the chandelier," he said, "without noticing it, when some one came hurriedly into the room and I jumped up and struck my head a hard blow, which afterwards proved more serious than I thought at the time and I finally came here and had a piece of the bone removed."

NATIONAL GAMES TODAY.

The champion Giants continued their winning streak by taking the opening game of the series from the Pirates, 3 to 1. The contest was witnessed by a crowd of 8,769 lovers of the sport, and the only display out of the ordinary was an alleged act by Hans Wagner, who made a very foolish break and for which he was removed from the game.

The display on the part of Wagner happened just after the conclusion of the Pirates' half of the fourth inning. In this inning Wagner was called out on a very close play at first base, and he was incensed at the umpire's decision, though from the stands it looked a perfectly fair one. When Wagner took his position in the field he secured the ball and let it go with all his strength in the direction of first base, back of which Umpire Bauswine was standing. Howard managed to stop the ball and no damage was done.

The umpire was looking directly at Wagner when the throw was made, and considered him from the field. The player made a vigorous denial that any harm was intended, and Manager Clarke also took a hand in the argument, as did several of the other players, including McGann of the Giants, but the official insisted that the attempt to injure him was a deliberate one, and the player was forced to vacate the field. This of course, aroused the ire of the more rabid of the spectators, and every decision made thereafter by Bauswine was greeted with groans and hisses.

Wagner's alleged act was a foolish one, and while it did not result in any damage to his team, it was fortunate that such was the case. The series with the Giants is a very important one, and Manager Clarke will need all his players, particularly his stars, if the team is to make a showing against the champions. Not only that, but the act might have stirred up serious trouble, as the fans are already aroused by the manner in which the Pirates were treated in New York, where pop bottles and other missiles were thrown at the outfielders. One fan yesterday did throw a bottle at the umpire, but his prompt ejection by the police prevented others following his example.

When Wagner was removed from the game Manager Clarke was forced to shift Tommy Leach from middle field to short, and Beaumont went to his old position. This change worked all right, as Leach fielded short perfectly, while Beaumont's single brought home the Pirates' lone tally. If, however, on the strength of the umpire's report Wagner is suspended, the team will be seriously crippled. Wagner last night denied that he had made any attempt to injure the umpire in such a cowardly way, and said the official would not have taken any action had he not been shouted at by the New York players.

The opening game was in a large measure a pitcher's battle between Phillippe and Mathewson, with the New Yorker having the best of it. The Giant's twirler was fortunate in that the hits made off his delivery were so scattered that they were useless as run-getters, whereas the Giants' hits off Phillippe were of the timely order and came when they would do the most good. Dan McGann and Dahlen were the lucky Giants, as the Deacon's delivery did hot fool them, and it was Dahlen who drove in two of the Giants' runs by timely singles.

The game was a pretty one to look at, as the fielding was fast and, as a rule, clean. The Giants went through without the semblance of a misplay, while the Pirates' mistakes were made by Phillippe. Dahlen had a busy afternoon and made good; in fact, all the New York players did their share. Bresnahan was the busiest Pirate, and Howard managed to work in a few plays that brought cheers from the spectators. The sensational play of the afternoon was made by Leach in the third inning, when he went back into deep middle field and gathered in Donlin's bid for a home run. After making the catch Tommy fell and turned a back twister, but came up with the ball in his hands.

A base on balls proved fatal for Phillippe in the opening inning. After Browne had gone out Donlin was passed to first and got around on singles by McGann and Dahlen. The second run was scored in the sixth inning, when McGann led off with a two-base hit to left, was sacrificed to third by Mertes and scored on a single by Dahlen. In the ninth Devlin singled, took second when Phillippe fumbled Gilbert's sacrifice, and scored on a single by Bowerman.

The Pirates' lone tally was scored by Phillippe in the sixth inning. The Deacon, who was the first batter, placed a single in right, went to second on Clymer's out at first, third on an infield single by Clarke, and scored on a single by Beaumont. The Pirates had a chance to tie the score in this inning, but Leach was caught by Bowerman when, with Beaumont, he tried to work the double steal. Tommy foolishly tried for home while Bowerman, who had made a bluff throw to head off Beaumont, stood holding the ball. The score:

WILL PROTECT UMPIRES.

Tri-State President Fines Offenders and Notifies Others.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 2.—President Creamer of the Tri-State league, tonight made the announcement: "For attacking Umpire Black at Harrisburg on Tuesday, Sylvester, of Lancaster, is suspended four days and fined $25. For an offense of similar nature against the same umpire, Rothfuss, of Lancaster, is suspended three days and fined $25.

"In the case of McCarthy and Applegate of Williamsport, who forced Umpire Laird being undoubtedly premeditated from the evidence given, the president has suspended them each three days, with fines of $15 each. These four men cannot play until the fines are paid.

"Attacks on Tri-State umpires have become so persistent and so vicious that the next man who offends will be made an example of, and he will be indefinitely suspended, if not put out of the game for the balance of the season."

FIFTY YEARS OF GREAT SOO CANAL

Americans and Canadians Join in Celebrating Semi-Centennial of Waterway.

FIGURES ON ITS GREATNESS

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

SAULT STE. MARIE, MICH., Aug. 2.—With the whole city crowded with thousands of visitors and with bunting flying in the breeze from all buildings on both the American and Canadian sides of the St. Marys river a salute at sunrise from the government ships in the harbor opened the two days' celebration of the semi-centennial of the opening of the St. Mary's ship canal, which connects Lake Superior with the lower lakes.

Fifty years ago the first ship canal around the rapids in the St. Marys river was completed and opened, with two locks 350 feet in length and a depth of 13 feet. Today the American canal has two locks, one 515 feet long, the other 800 feet long and 21 feet deep, while there is also a Canadian lock, 1,000 feet in length. More traffic passes through these three locks than through any similar waterway in the world. In 1904, 38,000 passengers were transported through the canal and a total of 37,548,106 tons of freight with a value of $240,000,000.

Vice President C. W. Fairbanks, Gov. Fred M. Warner, of Michigan, and his staff; United States Senator J. C. Burrows, of Michigan; Congressman T. D. Burton, of Ohio; Hon. William Livingstone, president of the Lake Carriers' association; and Charles T. Harvey, of Toronto, who constructed the original locks, and Miss Betty Poe, daughter of Gen. O. M. Poe, who constructed the Poe lock, are among the distinguished visitors present at the celebration. The Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux, solicitor general of Canada, and a party of Canadian officials are also participating in the celebration.

The first day was devoted to naval and military parades, an Indian exhibition and a reception by Gov. Warner to the other distinguished guests, followed by a magnificent exhibition of fireworks.

Vice President Fairbanks and Gov. Warner reviewed the naval parade from the deck of the naval reserve ship Yantic. The military parade was participated in by the battalion of the First U. S. infantry stationed at Fort Brady, a number of companies of the Michigan national guard and a battalion of Michigan naval reserves. After the military parade came a program of Indian sports, songs and dances, including foot and canoe races and a display of Indian handicraft by a band of Chippewas.

Tomorrow the commemoration exercises will be held and addresses will be made by President Peter White, of the semi-centennial celebration committee, Gov. Warner, Vice President Fairbanks and a number of other prominent guests.

FREE SPEECH PREVAILS IN CZAR'S PETERHOF PALACE

Emperor Nicholas Asks for Plain Facts, and Gets Them from Members of the Council.

[Associated Press Cable to The Gazette.]

ST. PETERSBURG, Aug. 3.—There was no session yesterday of the commission which has under consideration the national assembly scheme. Emperor Nicholas will preside at the second meeting which will be held this afternoon.

At the first meeting on Tuesday, the imperial palace at Peterhof was the battle ground of the contending forces, in the matter of reform. For five hours, taking advantage of the emperor's request, there was the freest and frankest discussion of the situation and the needs of Russia.

The feature of the meeting is said to have been a sensational speech delivered by Count Ignatieff, who had been sent by the emperor to investigate the situation in the south, after the mutiny on the battleship Kniaz Potemkine, and who declared in plain, clear cut sentences that the condition there made immediate and extensive reforms imperative. At the same time, he declared, order must be preserved and the agitators kept within bounds with a firm hand.

GEORGIA QUARANTINES.

Puts Up Bars Against All Louisiana and Other Points Where Scourge Has Appeared.

SAVANNAH, GA., Aug. 2.—Mayor Myers today issued a proclamation declaring a quarantine against persons and personal baggage from New Orleans, the entire state of Louisiana and all points which now have yellow fever. Special quarantine officers have been appointed to watch all incoming trains. The first instructions issued to inspectors are to stop only such persons from Louisiana who cannot show they have been out of the state at least six days.

Health Officer Brunner, of Savannah, now in New Orleans, today telegraphed Mayor Myers: "Inspection of situation warrants close quarantine of railroads. Alabama and Mississippi quarantines compel passengers to go through these states. Refugees seem to be centralizing in Atlanta. Advise careful inspection Atlanta trains."

Blue Laws in Use.

The blue laws were used by Alderman A. J. Brinker of Allegheny yesterday afternoon on 11 North Side fruit and candy dealers. John Glenn, acting superintendent of police, preferred the charges. All pleaded guilty. Four were old offenders and were fined $25 and costs. The fest, being arrested for the first time, were let off with the costs, and were told by the alderman not to appear before him again on the same charge, lest they receive the limit of the law.

ONE DROWNING BRINGS SORROW TO TWO HOMES

Body Is Claimed by Different Men as That of Brother, but One Is Mistaken.

While bathing in the Monongahela river at the foot of South Seventh street yesterday, a 19-year-old youth was drowned. The body was recovered last night about 10 o'clock and taken to the undertaking establishment of J. P. Colligan, 802 Carson street, where John Zemoski, who gave his address as 41 Union alley, called and identified the body as that of his 19-year-old brother, Larry. Earlier in the evening, Frank Schmiling of 41 South Fifteenth street called at No. 7 police station and positively identified the clothes found on the bank as those of his brother, Walter, aged 19. There is only one drowning known to have taken place on the South Side yesterday. The youth was in swimming about 1 o'clock and was seen, evidently in his death struggles, by Joseph Schultz, of 630 Morton street. He ran to Officer Lucas of the A. M. Byers Co. mill, who went to the river bank, but the swimmer had disappeared.

Conrad Miller, aged 22, a laborer employed at the South Side plant of Jones & Laughlin, was crushed to death in an elevator shaft yesterday morning. He wanted to go to the second floor and just missed the elevator. He looked up the shaft at the ascending cage and failed to notice the balance weights coming down the shaft. The weights struck him on the head, crushing his skull.

The body of John Kenney was identified at the morgue last night by Edward Donovan of Forty-fifth street, a friend, who said his home was at Little Falls, N. Y. Kenney died at the Homeopathic hospital last Saturday. It was thought then his death was due to a fractured skull, but the physicians found he died of alcoholism.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

CHICAGO, Aug. 2.—Condemnation of the traction lines as a method of bringing about municipal ownership has run against a stone wall. The plans advocated by Mayor Dunne and his corporation counsel, James Hamilton Lewis, as an alternative to an amicable purchase of the properties have come to grief because of a provision of the state laws and the opposition of a determined majority of the council.

For some time it has been the belief in traction circles and in the city hall, that Mayor Dunne has experienced a change of heart and that he no longer advocates condemnation as an alternative now that the traction companies have refused to name a price which he considers reasonable.

It leaked out today, however, that Mayor Dunne is as much an advocate of condemnation as ever, but that he has met with such opposition as to completely block the way. It is said the legal department has advised him that condemnation proceedings, unlike an ordinary law suit, require councilmanic action. An ordinance directing the law department to start the condemnation proceedings is necessary.

This completely tied the hands of the administration, because the majority of the council is opposed to condemnation proceedings. It was stated today that the Chicago Union Traction Company and the Chicago City Railway Company will propose to the city that the companies would take the place of the trust company proposed by Mayor Dunne for bringing about municipal ownership.

The companies are willing to agree to take and operate, as the agents of the city, all the lines whose franchises have expired or are to expire, and will agree to pay a percentage of the receipts to the city, and turn the lines over to the city whenever the city shall be able to pay for them.

Transactions on the New York stock exchange yesterday were about 100,000 shares smaller than for the day before. The market was irregular, prices averaging lower, and the reaction continued in the face of favorable news. While the net declines were not large, they included most of the active issues, and final sales were near the lowest prices of the day.

The London market was also dull and slightly depressed, although the operations of foreigners in American stocks were insignificant. The slight decline in consols was said to reflect fears that peace between Russia and Japan would be delayed by the reported expressions of the czar and his representatives. It is doubtful, however, if any one entertains any serious doubts regarding the negotiations of an early peace. The steady accumulation of gold by the great European banks foreshadows preparations for some important financial transaction, believed to be the underwriting of the war indemnity, and it would be entirely logical for consols to decline with the proximity of peace and the issue of new Russian loans.

An exception to the downward tendency in Wall street was American Smelting common, which advanced 2 per cent to 126, thus establishing a new high price. Amalgamated Copper was also firm in the early dealings, but later reacted and closed at a loss of ¼ per cent. It was reported that a sale of 5,000,000 pounds of copper had been made at 15½ cents a pound, the highest prices and the most important single transaction for a long time, and the market for the metal was quoted very strong. The relative heaviness of Amalgamated stock was therefore discouraging to bull traders, suggesting that some interests were utilizing the good news to take profits. The same was true in some measure of United States Steel stocks. Trade conditions were reported highly satisfactory, but both Steel common and preferred closed slightly lower.

The Pennsylvania railroad statement for June, showing a large increase in gross earnings, but a decrease in net, was also disappointing, but that stock fluctuated within narrow limits and closed unchanged for the day. Baltimore & Ohio also closed unchanged, while Reading closed a shade lower. Delaware, Lackawanna & Western advanced to 438 and Jersey Central to 207, both new high records, and Delaware & Hudson closed 1½ per cent higher, but these were the only important net changes. The granger stocks closed ¼ to ¾ per cent lower. The southern group of railroad stocks closed slightly higher, the rise of 1 per cent in Southern Railway common being ascribed as a sentimental movement in the way of celebrating the return from Europe of J. P. Morgan.

Call loan rates were easier and closed at 1¾ bid, 2 per cent asked, the final loan being at 2 per cent.

Commodity markets were active and irregular. Cotton rallied and closed near the highest. The government report will be out today and it is expected that it will show a further deterioration in condition. Both wheat and corn closed slightly higher. Primary receipts of wheat were 500,000 bushels larger than for the corresponding day last year, indicating that farmers were still rapidly marketing their surplus at current prices.

Violent fluctuations in Pittsburgh Coal preferred and activity and strength of Philadelphia Company common were the features of the local stock market. Coal preferred opened lower at 56 and broke to 50, following a similar movement in New York. The latter market rallied as rapidly as it had declined, reaching 57¼ in New York and 56 in Pittsburgh, but later reacted here to 55 and closed offered at that price, a net loss of only 1½ per cent. The common stock was extremely dull and on sales of only 60 shares broke 1¾ per cent to 14, recovering to 14½. The early break in the stock was based upon the showing made in the semi-annual report, while the subsequent recovery was thought to represent the covering of shorts. River Coal preferred ranged between 25 and 25½, closing at 25¼ bid.

The dealings in Philadelphia Company were again active, the sales reaching 2,300 shares. The price rallied to and closed at 46½, a gain of 1½ points. The selling seemed to come from the east, while the buying was for local account, and is the first that has appeared in this market for a long time. Manufacturers Light & Heat was dull but firm at 36, and Ohio Fuel Supply was slightly higher at 41⅝.

There were no transactions in Westinghouse Electric and the stock was not quoted all day, despite the report circulated in both New York and Chicago that the trade war with the General Electric Company was ended. General Electric was also dull in the eastern market, only one transaction being recorded. Union Switch and Signal was active and strong, advancing to and closing at 87. The Brewing issues were moderately active. Independent Brewing common advanced to 17½, while the bonds declined to 107. United Copper was active at 33½ to 34. The Steel stocks were dull but firm, Crucible common rallying to 11¼ and the preferred to 63¾.

MAY NOT PASS RICE BILL.

Cuban Senate Averse to Concurring in the Action of the House of Representatives.

HAVANA, Aug. 2.—It is likely that the sessions of congress will end as soon as the soldiers' pay bill is passed. Americans interested in the rice bill are disappointed because they thought President Palma and the moderate senators would pass the bill, while it now appears the Liberals are its best friends. Sugar producers fear the United States may close the American market for Cuban sugar in retaliation.

Cubans do not take readily to American rice, and they believe it would be impossible for the United States to supply the Cuban demand for the coming five years.

The house of representatives on June 28 by a vote of 24 to 10 passed the rice bill which it was expected would open the Cuban market to American rice and encourage the culture of rice in Cuba.

WOMAN PLAYS BALL; SUFFERS BROKEN RIB

NEW CASTLE, PA., Aug. 2.—(Special.)—In the first game of baseball she ever played, Mrs. William Guiddoo of this city suffered a fractured rib during the annual outing of the Primitive Methodist church at Willow Grove, yesterday. Teams were "picked up" with several women on each side. When Mrs. Guiddoo went to bat she turned away from the first ball, which struck her in the side, fracturing a rib and knocking her down.

FEATURES OF THE DAY

IN PITTSBURGH

Violent fluctuations in Pittsburgh Coal preferred a feature of the stock market.

The stock broke from 56 to 50 and recovered to 56, closing at 55.

Philadelphia Company common continued active and advanced to 46½.

Union Switch & Signal advanced to and closed at 87.

Brewing and Steel stocks were moderately active and firmer.

IN WALL STREET

Stock market dull and prices averaged slightly lower.

Sales included 469,100 shares stock and $2,714,000 bonds.

Smelting common advanced 2 points to 126, a new high record.

Lackawanna and Jersey Central each scored new high prices.

Only slight changes in other railroad stocks. Industrials steady.

NOTES AND COMMENT.

In the language of the street, Pittsburgh Coal preferred yesterday "made the round trip," and the movements in the stock were so rapid and violent as to be bewildering. The opening decline at 56 was based upon the showing made in the semi-annual report, which was less favorable than expected, based upon the preliminary figures given out last month when the dividend was passed. The quarterly report showed approximately $270,000 over fixed charges, while the semi-annual report showed only $12,218 earned over fixed charges and one quarterly dividend paid last April. It is doubtful if this showing, poor as it was, caused actual holders to throw their stock upon the market regardless of price. The quick break to 50 was doubtless caused by "bears" trying to put out short stock, and the subsequent rally to 56 here and to 57½ in New York, which was as rapid as the previous fall, was due to manipulation against the short interest. A New York dispatch stated that a specialist in the stock bid the price up 6 points on the filling of a 500-share order. Sentiment on the stock has again turned bearish, and the ease with which the market was manipulated acts as a check upon short sales.

The revival of activity in Philadelphia Company common stock was a matter of general comment and conjecture yesterday. During the past two days the sales on the local exchange have exceeded 5,000 shares, as compared with a total of only 10,700 shares handled in the previous seven months. The buying was restricted to two houses, one of which formerly had good information of movements in the stock. On Monday McMullin & Co. bought 3,000 shares. Yesterday Bayley was the largest buyer. The principals behind these purchases are supposed to be Pittsburghers, while the heaviest selling was credited to Philadelphians. This is a complete reversal of position maintained for two years. Heretofore Pittsburgh has sold and Philadelphia has bought the stock. The increase in earnings applicable to dividends on the common stock for the first half of 1905 was too small to account for the revival of activity in the stock, and the street is inclined to believe that some new deal must be in contemplation. On several occasions the United Gas Improvement Company has been mentioned as a possible purchaser of control of the franchises and plant, but the last time this subject was under discussion it was said that the United Gas Improvement Company would not pay the price which the controlling interests in the company would be willing to accept. Control of the stock passed from local investors some years ago.

Accompanying the checks for the semi-annual dividend on Consolidated Gas preferred this week was a little slip stating that the rate had been reduced from 3 to 2½ per cent on account of the inroads made upon earnings through the increased use of electric light and natural gas for illuminating purposes. This is another instance of the ticker forecasting important action. The year following the reorganization of this company the preferred stock advanced to 62 on the mistaken impression that the dividend was guaranteed by the Philadelphia Company. When this impression was corrected there was liquidation of some investment holdings and the price declined last year the stock sold as high as 42, but this year it declined to 35, a price that was accepted as foreshadowing dividend reduction. It may be interesting to recall a little history in connection with this company. The $4,609,000 Consolidated Gas common stock, which when issued was generally regarded as valueless, so far as dividend prospects were concerned, was subsequently exchanged for Philadelphia Company preferred stock on the basis of one share of the latter for one share Consolidated Gas common plus $7.50 cash a share. In other words, the bulk of the total outstanding Philadelphia Company preferred stock was issued in payment of Consolidated Gas common stock and fees. No dividends must be paid on it before any is paid on the $23,000,000 Philadelphia Company common stock outstanding. It requires $300,000 a year to pay dividends on the Philadelphia Company preferred stock which was issued in exchange for Consolidated Gas common stock, and yet Consolidated Gas cannot pay the full rate to which its preferred stock is entitled, and which amounts to only $120,000 a year.

The Second National bank of Pittsburgh has declared a quarterly dividend of 1½ per cent, payable forthwith.

The regular 1¼ per cent quarterly dividend on North American capital stock is payable September 1.

The Star Enameling and Stamping Company of Pittsburgh has declared the usual quarterly dividend of 2 per cent.

National Enameling and Stamping Company stock was strong on the official assurance that the annual report of the company to be issued in about 10 days will make a good showing. The recent decision handed down in favor of the company and against competitors for infringements of patents is also referred to as a matter of much importance to the company. Directors will act on the dividends following the annual meeting. It is the custom to declare dividends for the whole year payable in quarterly installments. The present rates are 7 per cent and 2 per cent yearly on the preferred and common stocks, respectively.

Directors of the American Radiator Company will meet to declare the regular quarterly dividend of 1¾ per cent on the preferred. Action on the usual quarterly 1 per cent on the common will not be taken until a month later. The preferred dividend is payable August 15. There will be no dividend increase on the common stock this year.

The Peoples Gas Company of Chicago yesterday declared the usual quarterly dividend of 1½ per cent.

Sales were reported on the Pittsburgh exchange of two 500-share lots of Oriental and Marbate Gold Mining at 50c a share. Advices from Masbate report satisfactory progress in the construction of the company's dredge.

Golden Anchor was offered at 9½c. No sales were reported. Other unlisted mining stocks were neglected.

For the first time in a week Luster Mining did not make a new high record yesterday. Sales were made at 39¼@39½, the final sale being at a net decline of ¼.

A New York stock exchange seat sold this week at $80,000, the same as at the last previous sale.

Union Switch and Signal has again crossed Westinghouse Electric, advancing to and closing at 87. There were no sales of Electric in Pittsburgh or New York, and only one sale of General Electric.

On the Pittsburgh exchange yesterday a wager was made that Pittsburgh Coal preferred will sell at 70 before it sells at 45.

A Cleveland dispatch says: "The National Carbon Company, known as the carbon trust, will very soon have a competitor with immense financial backing. It developed here yesterday that Rockefeller interests are behind the United States Carbon Company, which will soon be financed with a capitalization close to $1,000,000. The National Carbon Company has a capital of $4,500,000 7 per cent preferred stock and $4,500,000 common stock, on which 1½ per cent has lately been paid semi-annually. Myron T. Herrick is an active officer in the company."

On the rally in Pittsburgh Coal preferred 55 was bid for 1,000 shares buyer 30 days.

Net earnings of Illinois Central for June decreased $2,198.

The August circular of the anthracite companies makes the usual monthly advance of 10 cents a ton on the prepared sizes. After this month the maximum circular prices will rule until the end of the coal year. An advance of 10 cents a ton in price of anthracite coal at retail is announced. This is the third monthly advance since spring.

Net earnings of Norfolk & Western for June increased $72,000, and for the fiscal year increased $247,000.

Smelting, National Lead, Federal Mining and Smelting and United States Reduction showed a notable concord in movement. Reports have long been prevalent of a consolidation of interests in this field of industry, but no immediate news was forthcoming on the subject.

An effort to attribute the selling to the account of a veteran professional operator with great prestige as a leader of bear campaigns in the past made some impression on Wall street sentiment, but with a mixture of speculation of manipulative purpose as to its real object.

The high-priced, closely-held members of the anthracite group which move widely on slight provocation from quite normal causes led a sharp movement. Delaware, Lackawanna & Western extending its brilliant record of new high levels up to 438. A feeling of safety in the labor outlook in the coal mining industry has been induced by the harmony of sentiment on the subject shown in recently published views coming from the head of the mine workers and from one of the chief executive of the anthracite companies. The monthly advance on August 1 in the price of anthracite is accompanied by very confident predictions from trade authorities as to the volume of transportation for the coming period at the year's maximum price schedule.

THE MONEY MARKET.

Foreign Money Markets.

LONDON, Aug. 2.—Money was not superabundant today. Two millions transferred to the Japanese government at the Bank of England checked the ease. Discounts advanced. The stock exchange was quiet, with a favorable undercurrent. The attendance was small and business slack in the absence of support. The presence of profit-taking resulted in a drooping disposition, which was accentuated by Emperor Nicholas' latest telegram advocating a continuance of the war. There was a reaction in consols. Americans opened dull, moved irregularly on either side of parity and were inactive. There were some realizations, but the close was dull. Foreigners were fully steady on Paris support. Japanese were easier. Japanese imperial 4s of 1904 were quoted at 103¾. Consols for money, 79¼; consols for account, 79⅝. Bar silver steady at 27¾d per ounce. Money, 1½@1¾ per cent. The rate of discount in the open market for short and three-months' bills is 1 13-16 per cent.

PARIS, Aug. 2.—The bourse was unsteady today owing to renewed uneasiness over the Moroccan question and fears for the success of the peace conference. The Bank, however, showed gains and 3 per cent Russian imperial is were quoted at 87.05 and Russian bonds of 1904 at 361.00. Three per cent rentes, 93 francs 45 centimes for the account. Exchange on London, 25 francs 12 centimes for checks.

BERLIN, Aug. 2.—The bourse was somewhat weaker today. Exchange on London, 20 marks 47 pfgs. for checks. Discount rates—short bills, 2 per cent; three months' bills, 2¼ per cent.

STOCK MARKET WAS HIGHLY IRREGULAR

Weakness Finally Developed in Many of the Leading Issues. Little Public Interest.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Aug. 2.—The Herald says (Thursday) morning says: Stock market fluctuations were highly irregular yesterday, and weakness finally developed in many of the leading issues. From the professional nature of the market for the last few days, there was a disposition to credit the speculative element with bringing about mild reaction based on little else than a reversal of sentiment and disappointment over the lack of public interest.

This was the general estimate of the market movements of the day. Abroad, however, the pessimistic utterances reported as emanating from the Russian troops and from St. Petersburg concerning the peace outlook played an important part in the financial markets.

Nothing developed in the domestic news to change the current impressions concerning the business outlook. Reports of damage to wheat from black rust were again current, but wheat prices ended the day unchanged slightly, and the iron and steel trade reviews were of a confident and hopeful kind. Nevertheless, holders of international stocks showed more of a disposition to sell, and the tendency to ease off was more apparent in the international list than in the specialties. The admirable coal showing showed the effects of the improvements coming from the labor situation and from cuts of the operators, to the effect that no strikes was likely next year.

Business in the Steel Corporation shares was much curtailed, but the price changes were unimportant and reflected the professional character of the market. The current review of trade conditions published during the afternoon reported a favorable condition in all departments, and the additional fact was brought out that the urgent buying of a few days ago, which gave promise of developing into a boom, had subsided. The second 2 per cent bonds are attracting attention and are slowly advancing.

RETURNS CASH AND LEAVES.

Eli Sawyer's Contracts Would Have Deferred Prosecution for a Century or Thereabouts.

Eli Sawyer, a real estate promoter arrested Monday, on suspicion of operating a swindling scheme, was discharged from custody yesterday without a hearing.

Five people had made informations against him, charging false pretenses, and about 15 others had reported to Detective Superintendent McQuaide that they also had advanced money to Sawyer, all in sums of $10 to $20. He had told them he would sell them a lot and build a house on it, their only cost being what the architect charged for plans and specifications. They all signed contracts, agreeing to pay the whole cost in annual installments, and because of the wording of these contracts it was doubtful if the man could have been convicted, at least until the contracts would expire in 10 or 15 years.

Sawyer secured an attorney, who called on Director Moore and the latter agreed not to prosecute the case if Sawyer would make restitution and leave town. Sawyer was willing, and after he returned the money he received from those who entered the suits he was released.

Haslage of Haslage avenue, Spring Hill, Allegheny, testified that early yesterday morning the boys stole 60 fantail pigeons, valued at $150, from their loft in his barn.

FOUNDRY DEMAND AGAIN IS SLOW

Activity in One Line of Iron Did Not Continue Long, Despite Brisk Start.

GENERAL NEWS OF THE MARKET

The demand for foundry iron, which was particularly active in the last two weeks of July has apparently eased off again, the number of inquiries for foundry coke reflecting the condition of the iron market as well.

The failure of the foundries to stock at the present comparatively low prices has been one of the marked features of the market throughout the summer. It makes it certain that there must be much buying of foundry irons and cokes in the near future.

The general iron and steel market remains about the same. The comparatively great activity of most lines through June and July is taken as an indication that the latter part of this month will see a rush of business which will extend throughout the rest of the year and well into next year.

With the possible exception of sheets there is a large demand in the finished lines. Rail mills are far behind in their orders and will make a good showing this year. Plates are active still. The market for merchant pipe seems somewhat brisker and will undoubtedly be active in the near future.

The Hardware Market.

Notwithstanding the fact that the midst of the vacation season is here, business continues to move along in a satisfactory manner. The glass market has been characterized by several sharp advances in the past two weeks, and existing conditions point to a large shortage in this commodity, consequently the trade shows a disposition to buy freely in anticipation of further advances, which are sure to materialize. From reports and orders received from representatives on the road all indications point to a large fall business. The Bindley Hardware Compan furnishes the following quotations: Columbia pocket knives, discount 35 per cent; Albion hatchets, discount 40 and 10 per cent; Bindley canal shovels, $6 50 a dozen; Great Western files, discount 70 and 10 per cent; sheet iron, base No. 28, $2 35 the 100 pounds; galvanized sheet iron, discount 70 and 10 per cent; sash weights, a ton, $27; window glass, first and second brackets B single, 90 per cent off list October 1, 1904; all other sizes, single and double, 88 per cent off list October 1, 1904. STEEL MARKET SHOWS STRONGER CONDITIONS

Prices Higher for Billets and Sheet Bars, and Demand Continues Good. Rail Mills Full of Work.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Aug. 2.—The Iron Age tomorrow will say of the iron and metal trades: The iron trade generally continues in a very sound and satisfactory condition. The demand for billets and sheet bars has continued good and prices are higher. The rail mills are full of work. For some small lots for September delivery some of the large systems have indicated a readiness to pay a moderate premium.

The condition of the structural trade is well illustrated by the fact that the United States Steel Corporation has started to build a mill for rolling structural shapes at the Clairton plant. This mill, which will have a capacity of 10,000 tons of shapes ranging from 4 to 8-inch, is to be completed in the extraordinary time of 13 weeks.

The strong position of steel is having its reflection upon sheets, in which concessions are not being made as freely as some time since. The general demand for pipe shows little improvement, the oil country requirements are fair, and the buying of boiler tubes is good. The eastern scrap trade shows prices firm and advancing.

QUIET STRENGTH MARKS WEEK IN THE IRON TRADE

Shipments of Ore From Lake Superior District Are Nearly 5,000,000 Tons. Pig Sells Steadily.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

CLEVELAND, O., Aug. 2.—The Iron Trade Review tomorrow will say: The week has been one of quiet strength. While there have been no sensational features, and the pig iron market has not displayed the activity of two weeks ago, there is no basis for anything except a very hopeful view.

Shipments of ore from the Lake Superior ranges in June were within 150 tons of 5,000,000. The reports for July are not yet complete, but it seems certain the total shipments will exceed those of July. The selling of pig iron has continued steadily in nearly all centers and sales aggregate a large tonnage, although they are made up for the most part of small orders. In the Cleveland district sales aggregating nearly 50,000 tons of all grades have been made within a week, and prices are firm. Among the sales made by a Cleveland company were about 6,000 tons of malleable at $14 50, valley.

While it is still possible to buy foundry iron at $14 00 for No. 2 valley, many furnaces are holding for $14 50, and are not willing to sell below that price, except in small lots for immediate delivery. The demand for Bessemer pig iron in the Chicago district has been so strong that three or four furnaces which have often made foundry grades have been producing Bessemer for some time. Two new furnaces to run on foundry iron for the Chicago district are to be built this year. In finished lines the pressure on the mills for structural materials is constantly increasing, and many plants cannot promise delivery any time this year.

Harvest Hands Cutting Off City's Supply and Are Helping to Force Prices Up.

Eggs are the stiffest thing in the local market and the price on strictly fresh, select stock, advanced yesterday to 19c and 20c. Eggs at mark are doing the quotation figure, but the selected fancy stock is hard to procure, even at the advanced prices. Few farmers are taking any eggs to their gathering points now, and the stock is being supplied chiefly by regular poultry men. The farmers are feeding all the farm produces at present to their harvest hands. For the next week or two, until the oats harvest is past and the threshing finished, there will be few real fresh country eggs brought into the markets except those gathered by hucksters.

Green goods and produce of every description is still enjoying a phenomenal sale. Business is still on the increase and the houses in this city are worked to their utmost capacity to fill orders. The quality of the goods is being maintained and altogether the local merchants have never enjoyed a more satisfactory season. Home-raised green corn is now in the market, and the price of the article has been materially reduced as a result. The cool weather of the past week or two has not been particularly favorable to the rapid development of the roasting ear, but has not injured it any.

HAY AND GRAIN.

Receipts.

Receipts yesterday were: Pennsylvania, 27 cars oats, 8 cars corn, 5 cars hay. Baltimore & Ohio, 2½ cars oats, ½ car corn, 6 cars hay. Pittsburgh & Lake Erie, 2 cars hay, 2 cars corn, 2 cars rye.

Hay receipts are light and the market continues firm, with prices slightly advanced on choice hay. Straw is in better supply than it has been for some years. Receipts of corn are readily picked up. Oats are dull and lower on account of heavier receipts of new crop.

NEW YORK, Aug. 2.—A banking house with close Pittsburg connections has received the following from Pittsburgh: "It is understood that the deal involving the transfer of 6,000 acres of Klondike coking lands to the United States Steel Corporation will be closed as soon as H. C. Frick returns from Europe. The price agreed upon is said to be $1,200 an acre."

Barnsdall Pays $8,000 for Land in the Fourth Sand Development

The fourth sand development, west of the Bakerstown tunnel in Allegheny county, is attracting some attention. The first deal of any magnitude in that section was consummated yesterday when W. J. Gilliland of Mars, Pa., sold to T. N. Barnsdall his leaseholds on about 1,200 acres for a cash consideration of $8,000. The territory lies principally between the tunnel development and the old Westwood fourth sand belt, and Mr. Barnsdall will begin active development work on his holdings. West of the tunnel the Park Oil Company is building the rigs for No. 1 and 2 on the Ira Crawford farm. The first well drilled on this farm is producing 10 barrels a day. On a 2-acre lot on the north end of the Ira Crawford farm James Early & Co. are building the rig for a test. The Crystal farm well is holding up at 15 barrels a day, and the Pittsburgh Rose and Carnation Company is building the rigs for Nos. 4 and 5 on the same farm, and will drill them at once. The Hope Miller & Co. are building the rig for a test on the H. Owens farm. Locations for other tests have been made, and it is thought that within a few weeks there will be 11 or 12 wells drilling in the new development.

The most important new development, located in Southeastern Butler county, in Worth township, west of Slippery Rock, Jefferson county. The prospects for a pool of great dimensions are very promising. In the district Castner Booth-ers have completed their No. 4 on the W. P. Black farm and have a natural producer, good for 30 barrels a day. It was the first well finished on the farm, and was drilled in by the Castner Brothers to be drilled seven producers on the farm and none started at less than 10 barrels a day. The best were credited with better than 300 carrying a day. In the Wolf Creek district, Washington county, the Penn Oil Producing Company has completed No. 14 on the D. H. Palmer farm, and is drilling on 5 of its barrel pumper. In the same locality H. D. Crawford has completed No. 2 on the John Lightner farm and has a gusher in the shallow sand.

The reported 500-barrel strike by the Baker Oil Company, on the Bailey farm, near Cadiz, Ohio, proves to be a gusher, and the new pumping power has caused considerable excitement. From reliable information it has been learned that the well will not make better than a small pumper. Since the drilling in of the Mc-Bride gusher, west of Butler, a half dozen wells have been completed in various parts of the county, and in nearly every instance the size of the strike has been magnified to a gusher. The big well west of Butler has been the incentive for many wild-catting in Butler county. A few days ago it was reported that "Spotty" McBride had located a new pool and was going to drill a test. Certainly it will not be drilled to locate a pool, but in this instance the order seems to have been reversed.

On Brush Creek, Edgeworth, Sewickley, Fayette county, J. M. Guffey and J. G. Galey have drilled their test on the Beth Weekly farm through the Big Injun and have a show for a 10-barrel pumper. One and one-half miles east of Oxford postoffice, on Hughes run, Southwest Butler, Pedersen county, the Silverwood & Bellevue Oil Company has drilled in its test on the Mary O. Edwards farm through the Big Injun and developed a little gas. It is now drilling to the lower sands. Five miles west of Worth, Lewis county, the Philadelphia company has drilled its test on the Mary O. Edwards farm through the Big Injun and has a show for a gusher on the Big Buck Camp run. Hardy & Seidel, in Harrison county, Jones Nathan Goff is starting No. 6 on the Hite farm, in Allegheny county. This well is now in the vicinity of No. 3, completed two weeks ago, and in such proximity that it is making a day. The Indications are very favorable for opening a Gordon pool in that locality. In the Whitaker district the south Penn Oil Company has completed its test on the J. C. Bitner farm through the Gordon sand for 100 barrels, and has drilled up 1,250 feet with fluid. It will be shot and will make a 15 or 20-barrel pumper. In the same district the same company has drilled its second test on the H. A. Barker farm through the gray and has developed a light pumper. The Ohio Oil Company has drilled in its test on the Blackburn-Wells farm in Venango county, and will start a rig for a test on the Kinsbrunner tract. Lochry & Co., of the Crude Oil Company has drilled in its test on the L. E. Gall farm through the Gordon and got a little gas. It is now drilling to the fifth sand and will shoot it. The Hope Natural Gas Company has drilled the test on the Blackburn-Wells farm from the Big Injun to the fifth sand. Quaker City & Kinsbrunner,

$100,000 SHOP FOR LAKE ERIE

"Little Giant" Adds Big Structure at McKees Rocks—Wabash Is Planning.

MURDOCK'S DEATH A SHOCK

An improvement that will cost more than $100,000 is being made at the shop and yard plant of the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie railroad at McKees Rocks. This is a large freight car repair shop. A contract for a portion of the work of construction was awarded yesterday to the Hill Construction Company. This company will build that portion of the superstructure not included in the steel frame work. The latter construction is being done by the McClintic-Marshall Construction Company.

The new building will occupy the site of the old freight car repair yard. It will be 180 feet wide and 420 feet long, thus giving ample room for the car repairs of the system, which work centers at McKees Rocks. In addition to the repairs of its own cars, the company, by being a member of the New York Central lines freight car repair pool, will also make repairs to any cars of the other roads that may need attention while on the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie lines. The company will also make repairs to cars of lines not included in the New York Central system. The new shop will be completely fitted up with repair tracks and will have electric traveling cranes and all of the most modern machinery for a shop of that kind. The new building will add materially to the model shop plant of the "Little Giant."

Grieved by "Jack" Murdock's Death.

Pittsburgh traffic men and shippers were grieved yesterday to hear of the death of John A. Murdock, commercial agent of the Seaboard Despatch, at Philadelphia Tuesday night. It was only a few days ago that he was reported to be so much improved that he would be able to leave his bed at the Methodist Hospital, where he had been confined since May. It was learned yesterday that rheumatism had set in a few days ago, which aggravated his condition so that his heart, which had been weakened by the ravages of grip and typhoid fever, could not stand the strain. His brother, S. B. Murdock, who is also connected with the Seaboard system here, was called to Philadelphia Tuesday. The Traffic club of Pittsburgh, through a special committee appointed by the board of governors, and consisting of S. S. Bridgers, C. S. Bellsterling and T. D. Parrack, will take appropriate action on Mr. Murdock's death, and has already sent a handsome floral tribute.

Mr. Murdock was very well and favorably known among the traffic men and shippers. He was familiarly known among these men as "Jack," and his service for his company in Pittsburgh is said to have resulted in a doubling of its business from this district. He was here last on May 8, on the evening of which he left for Old Point Comfort, Va., to attend a meeting of the freight and passenger representatives of the Seaboard Air Line railway system. From there he went to Philadelphia, where he was taken ill and was confined to the hospital until his death.

John Alexander Murdock was born in Philadelphia 30 years ago. His first railway service was in the Rock Island offices at Philadelphia. He was associated with the Florida Central & Peninsula railroad as soliciting agent, and when that road was purchased by the Seaboard he was made traveling freight agent under General Agent Daniel S. Lammott; four years ago he was promoted to be commercial freight agent of the Seaboard Air Line at Pittsburgh and last December was made commercial agent of the Seaboard Despatch. Three years ago he married Miss Annabelle Falconer. She and a daughter one year old survive. Mr. Murdock was a member of Dallas lodge No. 508, F. and A. M., and will be buried under the auspices of this order at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon from the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Murdock, 2411 Christian street, Philadelphia. A large number of Pittsburgh traffic men will attend the funeral.

Working on Allegheny Plan.

Vice President B. A. Worthington of the Wabash lines east of Toledo said last evening that work is progressing well on the plan for the company's line from Pittsburgh to Allegheny, and that he hopes soon to have the plan in shape to present to Maj. W. L. Sibert, United States engineer here. Mr. Worthington thinks that a plan can be worked out that will meet with Maj. Sibert's approval, and he hopes that this can be done so as not to delay the beginning of work on the line far into next year. Mr. Worthington says that while the appeal from the court decision in the Wabash-Pittsburgh & Lake Erie case regarding the construction work on the South Side, along the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie property, will restrain the Wabash from working along about 600 feet in Carson street the remainder of the work is being pushed along. It is probable that the completion of the whole line will not be seriously delayed by the Lake Erie's interference.

Good Investment for Railroaders.

At a meeting of the board of directors of the Erie Land Company, which is composed solely of officers and employes of the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie railroad, held Tuesday, a dividend of 7 per cent was declared. This company was incorporated September 1, 1903, with a capital of $5,000, which amount was increased to $25,000 in June, 1904. The company has now about $17,000 worth of real estate in Pittsburgh, mainly in the Mt. Washington district. The idea originated in the accounting department of the "Little Giant" upon the suggestion that it would be a good place for the savings of the employes. More than 50 per cent of the officers and clerks in the terminal office building are stockholders. The officers are: President, H. M. Smith; vice president, F. J. Kennedy; secretary, W. J. Nelson; treasurer, E. H. Kennedy; directors, G. M. Campbell, R. P. Forsburg, A. P. Bixler, H. Weimer, E. B. Whisler and G. E. Moore.

Pennsylvania Appointments.

C. H. Seaman, who has been freight solicitor for the Pennsylvania lines here under District Freight Solicitor V. C. Williams, having special charge of heavy freight business, will on August 15 be transferred to New York to look after the dairy product freight business of the Pennsylvania, reporting to General Agent George T. Smith. His successor in Pittsburgh has not been named.

W. E. Poland, agent for the Pennsylvania lines at New Cumberland, has been appointed agent for the same system at Steubenville as successor to J. M. Reynolds, who resigned because of the election of Mr. Reynolds to the office of sheriff of Jefferson county. Mr. Poland is succeeded at New Cumberland by J. W. Rowland of Oakdale.

J. T. Thomas has been promoted to day foreman of the Pennsylvania lines roundhouse at Lawrence Junction, vice O. C. Carey, transferred.

New Officers in Charge.

The new representatives of the Rock Island-Frisco system in Pittsburgh, General Agent O. M. Ellsworth and District Passenger Agent G. S. Pentecost, have arrived in Pittsburgh and assumed charge of their offices. Mr. Ellsworth was accompanied about the city among traffic men and shippers by Assistant General Freight Agent H. A. Snyder of Chicago, Tuesday and yesterday. Mr. Snyder left last evening for his headquarters. Mr. Pentecost and Traveling Passenger Agent Harry Young circulated among the passenger traffic men. Both of the new officers say that they are well pleased with Pittsburgh. Mr. Ellsworth came from Cincinnati and Mr. Pentecost from El Paso.

CLEVELAND, O., Aug. 2.—The definite announcement is made by C. J. Grammer, vice president of the Lake Shore railroad, that Cleveland is to have a $5,000,000 union depot, $3,000,000 of which will be the share of the New York Central lines as a part of the appropriation of $60,000,000 for improvements to be made within the next three or four years.

C. W. Bodle, private secretary to General Superintendent Robert Finney of the Baltimore & Ohio, is spending his vacation in the east. Frank Lehan of the general superintendent's office has returned from a pleasant trip to Hertford, N. C.

The Erie railroad intends to finance its heavy work on the main line in New York state by selling a part of a bond issue of $10,000,000, authorized in part, to be put out by the New York & Jersey Railway Company. The plans call for the building of about 40 miles of new main line.

George W. Bowman, division freight agent of the Erie at Rochester, N. Y., has been appointed division freight agent of the Buffalo, Rochester & Pittsburg, at Buffalo, to succeed F. W. Eaile, resigned. Al. Chamberlain of the New York traffic offices of the Erie will succeed Mr. Bowman at Rochester.

EXCEPT TO THE COURT'S FINDING

Gulick and McNulty Give Reasons Why Judge Erred in Elevated Suit.

M'FALL'S STRANGE DESERTION

R. M. Gulick and P. J. McNulty filed exceptions to the findings of court of common pleas No. 2 in their suit to restrain the Pennsylvania railroad from erecting its elevated system in Duquesne way, etc.

The plaintiffs claim that the court erred in finding the elevated road would not be an obstruction; that the title of the plaintiffs does not extend north of the south line of Duquesne way, that the Penn deed to the United States did not cover to low water; that the plaintiffs were not damaged; that the city in relocating Duquesne way under the act of 1836 did not require consent of the United States; that the city has authority under the acts of 1836 and 1874 to contract with the railroad to relocate its track and that the railroad has power to build the elevated road without consent of the city.

The commissioner in the divorce suit of Sarah J. McFall against James W. McFall has filed his report. Mrs. McFall charged her husband with desertion and the testimony adduced before the commissioner shows that both McFall and his wife had been married before that death in each case severed the first matrimonial ties. Several witnesses testified to the wifely qualities of the libellant and alleged her husband had no cause for leaving her.

Julia B. Murray, widow of Edmund M. Murray, sued the Knights of the Maccabees of the World for $3,000, alleged to be due on benefit certificates issued to her husband and in which she is named as beneficiary.

Charles H. Reis, administrator of the estate of Henry Reis, sued John and Mary McDevitt for $4,676, alleged to be due on an agreement made by them with Reis, the deceased, for the transfer of real estate.

Charles W. Chappell, a contractor and architect, sued the Bethel A. M. E. church of Pittsburgh for $259 he alleges to be due for plans made by him for a new church building.

The Bonnot Company has sued the International Cement Company for $2,249, alleged to be due on a contract for furnishing machinery to the defendant.

Henry H. Rankin sues Swissvale borough for a balance of $254 for services rendered as borough engineer under a contract.

The Chartiers Coal and Coke Company has been sued for $1,000 damages by Alice Collins and others. It is alleged the defendant diverted a stream of water flowing through the plaintiff's property.

An involuntary petition in bankruptcy was filed against the C. J. Fisher Company. The petitioning creditors are the Cunningham Glass Company, A. P. Callahan & Co. of Chicago, and the Hope Planing Mill Company, whose claims aggregate $548 56.

A foreign attachment was issued against Oscar A. Whittaker by Isabella Reese Whittaker. Bail to dissolve was fixed at $3,550. The plaintiff gives instructions to especially attach all interest of the defendant in realty in his wife's name in the Twenty-first ward.

Executions issued: Mayer Buck vs. M. Kimelman, $247; Max Friedman vs. Louis Haupt, $1,325; Fulton Hutchinson vs. Thomas H. McCoy, $47; Lewis Brown vs. Louis Haupt, $5,562; Mortgage Banking Company vs. Mt. Vernon Land and Improvement Company of Allegheny, $4,872.

A charter has been asked by the Trinity African Methodist Episcopal church of Pittsburgh.

COMMISSIONER REPORTS ON JEWISH CONDITIONS

Finds Foreign Hebrews Hopeful President Will Help Them in Russia. Are Patriotic People.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2.—Dr. Adolphe Danziger, formerly United States consul at Madird, arrived here today to lay before the department of commerce and labor memoranda concerning the conditions of the Jews abroad, the information being gathered at the request of the department for the use of the bureau of immigration in dealing with that class of immigrants.

"In England, Germany and Russia," said Dr. Danzinger today, "the Jews I met were hoping the president would induce the Russian government to grant them freedom, or at least to give them equal rights in Russia. Many of the Russian Jews do not want to leave that country. They love it in spite of the terrible oppression brought on them by the Russian government.

"I found a terrible condition among the Russian Jews who have gone to England to come to this country. The steamship companies are afraid to bring them here for fear they will be declared paupers, with the result that the steamship companies would have to take them back to England. In order to refuse them passage when they have the money to pay their way, the doctors of the companies invent excuses. They declare they are suffering from some kind of eye disease or some other imaginary ill. The fact is, the Russian Jews are powerful fellows, who have had their muscles trained on farms. They are not only farmers but mechanics."

WANT JEWISH COLONY OUTSIDE OF PALESTINE

German Delegates to Zionists' Congress Present Arguments Favoring the Scheme—Socialists Secede.

[Associated Press Cable to The Gazette.]

BASEL, SWITZERLAND, Aug. 2.—The Zionist congress today received Max Nordau's eloquent felicitation of Switzerland upon the celebration of the anniversary of the foundation of the confederation.

A memorial was presented from the grand lodge of the Sons of Israel in the United States, saying that while they were not affiliated with Zionism, they were prepared to co-operate in the establishment of a Jewish fatherland.

Several German delegates presented arguments favoring Jewish colonization outside of Palestine, bringing out a request from Rev. Dr. Magnes of Brooklyn, N. Y., for a ruling by the chair as to whether Sunday's decision favorable to Palestine was binding on all the delegates, to which the chairman acceded. The Socialis' section definitely seceded from the orthodox Zionists, their object being to find suitable territory apart from Palestine for the foundation of a colony.

The congress closed this afternoon with the election of the executive committee, on which Dr. Henry Friedenwald, Lewin Epstein, Cyro Sulzberger, Zolotkoff Norovitch, Dr. Magnes and Dr. Harry represent the United States.

The American public used over three million last year. Give immediate relief — do not affect the heart. At all Druggists.
